CONNELLSVILLE, PA., April 25.—(Special.)—Over $150 was taken from the pockets of 12 workingmen while they slept at their boarding house at Lemont last night. The thief entered through the room in which the boarding boss slept, and after taking $50 out of his pockets rifled the clothing of all the men without waking them.

NEW SHOCK OF EARTHQUAKE SHAKES SAN FRANCISCO AND THROWS DOWN RUINED WALLS

Frail Buildings Disturbed and Considerable Alarm Caused—One Woman Killed—Quake Is at 3:15 in Afternoon—Lasts One Minute.

CONDITIONS IN CITY ARE BEST POSSIBLE OTHERWISE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—An earthquake shock this afternoon toppled over several tottering walls and cracked chimneys left by the severe shock of last Wednesday and the fire that followed, and killed one woman in her home. The shock was not severe, but the partly wrecked condition of walls and chimneys resulted in the upsetting of some masonry. The shock was barely perceptible in Oakland and vicinity, and was not felt far from San Francisco, according to reports received tonight.

The shock was at 3:15 o'clock this afternoon and lasted nearly one minute, and occasioned considerable alarm.

The earthquake caused the death of Mrs. Annie Whitaker, aged 25 years. Mrs. Whitaker was at work in the kitchen of her home, in Shotwell street, in the Mission district, when the shock came. The chimney, which had been left in a tottering condition by the heavy quake last Wednesday, crashed through the roof on the woman and fractured her skull. Her body was taken to the morgue at Portsmouth square and buried an hour later at Laurel Hill cemetery.

Today's quake caused slight excitement of short duration among many persons who have been wrought to a high state of excitement by the awful happenings of the last week, but quiet and assurance was soon restored.

This was a day of optimistic reports from all sides. "Conditions improving," was the happy expression from those who have charge of caring for their less fortunate fellow townsmen during the last few days.

In fact, now that the most important duty will hereafter be performed by the United States army, that of distributing the food and supplies, which have been given lavishly, the citizens of San Francisco have turned their attention to details of the reconstruction of their business.

There was resumption of business to an astonishing extent today, considering conditions, throughout the residential quarter.

Street cars are promised tomorrow morning, and electric lights will be turned on tomorrow evening. The work of building and improving chimneys is proceeding rapidly, but it will be sometime before it is safe to allow fires.

The pepparation of the morning and the evening meals, for San Francisco, as a rule, does not partake of more than that number at present, is a picturesque sight. In front of every house there is a small, improvised furnace or a cookstove, on which the food is prepared.

Shots Fired Where Lights Show.

San Francisco goes to bed at nightfall. While the extremely rigid rule concerning lights in houses has been modified, still the general situation is considered by the average citizen to be so unsafe at night that he retires without going abroad, and in many cases without showing a light in his house. Many reports have been made during the last few days of shots fired into houses that showed a light, and few are disposed to take chances.

Mayor Schmitz today took a firm stand against "citizens' protective committees," organized in many sections of the city by men who undertook to regulate the affairs of their neighborhood. Many complaints have been made against these "committees." Responsible citizens have been stopped at night and made to explain why they were abroad after dark, and even shots have been fired at persons who had a right to go anywhere they pleased at any hour. One of these so-called "vigilance committees" is held responsible for the death of Maj. Tilden, who was shot while performing relief work.

The mayor today gave instructions that the members of these "committees" were to be disarmed wherever found by the city police, and if any resistance was offered, were to be treated as looters, which means that they are to be shot without ceremony.

The water supply is still a serious problem. It was decided today that still further restrictions should be put on the use of the water now available. Hereafter, until the water system has been repaired, there is to be put one water faucet for each block throughout the city.

State Militia Not Withdrawn.

The state militia has not been withdrawn, notwithstanding the requests from the mayor and from the citizens' executive committee. Gov. Pardee has not met with the executive committee or with the heads of the military and civil authorities at Fort Mason. He has sent word, in explanation of his absence, that he has been advised too late to reach the meetings.

It appears that as a rule members of the militia have had a misapprehension of the conditions in San Franisco. They have acted as though martial law were in force, and that it was their duty to regulate the affairs of the city according to their individual conception of that law. Since they have been confined to a limited area, however, and the conditions have been explained to them, there has been less complaint from citizens.

There is nothing but praise for the work of the United States army, the navy and the police. They have acted with reason at all times.

Marines are used in a large region for patrol duty, and they have maintained the best of order without one instance of conflict with anybody. The direction of the municipal police under Mayor Schmitz and Chief Dinan has been excellent, and many are the heroic actions that could be told of the work of these men during the last week.

LOCAL FUND IS NOW PAST THE $270,000 MARK

End of Week Is Expected to Bring Pittsburgh's Offering Up to $300,000.

Contributions toward the relief of the stricken residents of California continue to pour into the general Pittsburgh fund and totals last night showed that the $270,000 mark had been passed. Many sources are still to be heard from in this city before the end of this week, at which time it is expected that Pittsburgh's offering will approximate $300,000.

CONGRESS NOT FAVORABLE TO TARIFF CHANGE

Hon. John Dalzell Says Our Mills Can Fill 'Frisco's Needs and Prevent Free Steel.

Special Telegram from
L. W. Strayer, Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—"I have information that our own mills in Pittsburgh and other parts of the country will be able to fill all orders for structural steel for the rebuilding of San Francisco," said Representative John Dalzell tonight. "It is true the mills are crowded with orders, but they recognize the urgency of the needs and will meet them.

"I do not believe there will be any bill passed by congress admitting structural steel to this country free of duty when it is to be used for replacing buildings that were destroyed by the earthquake and fire. The necessity for such action is not apparent. Possibly a resolution may be passed giving a drawback on duties paid upon goods sent into the country as contributions for the relief of the sufferers, but beyond that I do not think congress will care to go."

This expression from Mr. Dalzell represents the views of a large number of other members of congress. It is argued the steel mills of other countries knowing that the business obtained under a temporary suspension of the tariff will be of no permanent value, would not be inclined to sell at prices less than the same material would bring in this country.

The statement of Mr. Dalzell also indicates that the United States Steel Corporation and the independent concerns propose to keep the business in this country and will so arrange their affairs as to fill the orders promptly.

Another very important consideration to the California members of congress is the possibility of a general tariff revision in which the duties on fruits might be affected, inflicting an injury upon the fruit business of that state.

SUES W. J. WHITE FOR DIVORCE

Wife of Millionaire Head of Chewing Gum Corporation Alleges Gross Neglect of Duty.

CLEVELAND, O., April 25.—(Special.)—W. J. White, president of the chewing gum corporation and a former congressman, has been sued for divorce. The only charge in the petition is that he was guilty of gross neglect of duty. Mrs. White filed the suit when she heard reports in which a prominent actress was involved.

Twenty years ago White peddled chewing gum, using a basket for the stock. Finally he built a factory and he went to Mexico and bought up the chicle supply of the country. The other manufacturers had to come to White for their supply. He made $2,000,000 in his chicle corner. Then came the organization of the chewing gum corporation, the American Chicle Company.

UNIDENTIFIED CHILDREN FOREVER LOST TO PARENTS

SALEM, ORE., April 25.—Gov. Chamberlain sent the following telegram to Gov. Pardee today: "Many children and some babies are coming through here unidentified and unaccompanied by anyone, cared for only by strangers. Can they not be gathered together at Oakland and kept together for subsequent identification? As it is, they will be forever lost to their parents."

MEETS SON HURRYING HOME FROM DISASTER

Affecting Meeting Between Young Deering and His Father in Omaha Station.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

OMAHA, NEB., April 25.—In the Union station here, where 500 destitute refugees from San Francisco were being breakfasted by the Omaha relief committee this morning as the throngs of ragged, hungry and woe begone travelers alighted from the special Union Pacific train which had carried them 2,000 miles, an old man made his way into their midst and eagerly questioned those he met.

The man was John Deering of Brookfield, Pa., journeying westward in search of his son Edgar, who was employed in San Francisco when the earthquake occurred.

The look of seeming hopelessness on the old man's face suddenly changed as he caught sight of his son in the throng of refugees. As the father was hurrying west to find the son, the son was hurrying east to the arms of his father and mother. They left together tonight, having wired Mrs. Deering that both were safe.

SUICIDE ADVOCATE SAYS WIFE TRIED TO KILL HIM

President of Unique Organization Reserves for Himself the Duty of Ending His Life.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

LOGANSPORT, IND., April 25.—Edward Gates, president of the Logansport Suicide club, an organization which had a membership of five, but now reduced to two, has filed suit for divorce, alleging that his wife tried to kill him and, failing in the attempt, deserted him.

He says his wife made frequent threats to kill him and on three occasions tried to carry them into execution.

He sets out in his complaint some of the scenes in the family circle and says he objected to being killed by his wife as he reserved that duty for himself. Gates has made two attempts at self-destruction, but did not succeed. He has been president of the Suicide club for four years.

USES WHIP ON RIVAL.

Young Wife of Prominent Akron Man Causes Sensation and Enters Suit for Divorce.

AKRON, O., April 25.—(Special.)—Mrs. Dan A. Goodwin, wife of the owner of the Buchtel Hotel, caused a sensation today by horsewhipping Miss Della Haury, aged 22. The scene occurred on the front steps of the hotel where the indignant wife threw the young woman into the street.

Mrs. Goodwin is 32 years old and pretty. She declares detectives have followed her husband and Miss Haury to hotels in other cities. Miss Haury, who is almost prostrated, denies the allegation. Suit for divorce has been entered by Mrs. Goodwin, who is the mother of two little daughters.

TWO MEN BLOWN TO DEATH.

Fatal Explosion Takes Place in the Pennsylvania Tunnel Under Long Island City.

NEW YORK, April 25.—(Special.)—Two men were blown to pieces, a third was so mutilated that his death is only a matter of a short while, and 50 other workmen were shaken about like pebbles in a violently agitated tube when a belated blast unexpectedly went off in the Pennsylvania tunnel under Long Island City today. The explosion occurred almost beneath the Long Island railroad yards, and shook the surface of the earth by its violence.

HETTY GREEN IS A SAMARITAN TO A NEEDY CITY

Richest Woman in the World Helps New York When Financiers Would Pluck It.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 25.—With the aid of Mrs. Hetty Green, the richest woman in America, Controller Metz has been enabled to beat the financiers of Wall street and to save the city thousands of dollars. It developed today, when the city's bond balance was made out and compared with balances for a month or more past, that on several occasions when the city treasury was in dire need of immediate funds Mrs. Green had broken the market. Interest rates tumbled because she refused to press the city when the Wall street banks were demanding high rates.

Within the last month she has lent to the city $4,500,000 at rates a shade under the charges of the big bankers of Wall street, and it is said had more money been needed she would have opened up her coffers over at the Chemical National and given forth more.

"She is a grand little woman," said Deputy Chamberlain Campbell. "We can always rely on her. If she has the money when we need it we can get it from her."

WORSHIP CHARRED IDOL.

Chinese Burn Sacred Punk and Spread Feast to Propitiate Devil and Prevent Disaster.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—With unwavering faith in an image, 20 Chinese gathered in a desolate spot in the ruins of Chinatown this morning, and worshipped in full compliance with the rites of their religion. In the ashes of their temple, they knelt and silently offered prayers.

Prostrate in the smoldering wreckage before them was the charred trunk of a graven image that once held the altar in the temple of Shai Tai. The fumes of fresh incense from sacred punk curled skyward. All the dainties obtainable under the circumstances were spread in propitiatory offering to the devil that no offense to that personage might bring a recurrence of the disaster.

TRAPPED BY FINGER MARKS.

NEW YORK, April 25.—(Special.)—Trapped in a net whose meshes are the crisscross of delicate lines on the tips of his fingers, Henry Johnson, charged here with two robberies in the Waldorf Astoria, has been identified by the British police at Scotland Yards.

The finger prints sent to London by Inspector McLaughlin have brought back to him another set of prints exactly like them, which were made from Johnson's fingers when he was arrested in England for robbery. The Scotland Yard report, with Johnson's crime and prison record in England, were received at police headquarters today.

Boy Prefers Death to Girls.

OXFORD, PA., April 25.—(Special.)—The only boy in the class of seven, James Andrews, aged 16, committed suicide rather than graduate. His body was found in White Clay creek. His coat pockets were filled with nail irons and stones which held him down.

CONSTITUTION IS NO BAR TO GREATER CITY

Judge McClung Declares Annexation Act Legal and Orders Election.

TO FIX DATE TODAY

Opponents Believe They Cannot Appeal, and Will Wait Until the People Vote.

SATISFACTION OVER RESULT

Judge McClung has decided that the Greater Pittsburgh act is constitutional and has ordered that an election be held. Today City Solicitor Rodgers will go before the court and ask that a date for the election be fixed. He will suggest that the election be held early in June.

There was rejoicing about city hall when the decision of Judge McClung was made public. Mayor Guthrie was well pleased, both because he is personally in favor of the Greater Pittsburgh and because it was he who, in concert with Attorney D. T. Watson, prepared the bill, at the request of the chamber of commerce. Prominent members of the chamber were delighted with the result.

Shortly after the decision was made known Mayor Guthrie and Mr. Rodgers had a talk, and afterward Mr. Rodgers announced that he would go into court today. "Early in June would be a good time to hold the election," said Mr. Rodgers, "and I will suggest that time to Judge McClung if he asks me about it. The election ought to be held before so many people leave the city for the summer, so that the vote will be representative. The court is the one to decide upon the date, however."

Appeal Is Not Probable.

"There will probably be no appeal from the decision," said William C. McGill, a member of the Allegheny public defense committee. "It is an interlocutory decree, and it is probable that we could not appeal, even if we wished. While the committee has not conferred with its counsel it is probable that no obstacles to the election will be interposed, and if the annexation election goes against us an appeal from the judicial decree declaring consolidation effected will be taken to the higher courts."

"I say, not as mayor, but as a citizen of Allegheny, that it should be up to the people of the North Side whether we should be in the Greater Pittsburgh or not," said Mayor Kirschler of Allegheny. "I am for a separate vote, and am not favorable to any other way of deciding it. It is not right that the 20,000 voters in Allegheny should be pitted against the 60,000 in Pittsburgh, all of whom would undoubtedly be for the union. I think, too, that Pittsburgh should make some decided effort to free the bridges before they unite with Allegheny. What action will be taken to prevent the consolidation I don't know, but you can state positively that I think it unfair to the citizens of Allegheny to bring it about without giving them a chance to go to the polls and express their opinions in that way. If the majority declare for it, I will be for it."

Alleghenians Express Opinions.

"I am well pleased with the decision," said R. H. Boggs, of Boggs & Buhl. "It was exactly what I had expected, and is the proper way to bring about the consolidation. We need Greater Pittsburgh, and it will be a benefit to all the people."

"I have nothing to say about the consolidation, except that I am against any move that does not give Alleghenians a separate vote on the question," Controller Brown said.

"I think Allegheny is all right as it is," said Dr. Hamilton K. Beatty, superintendent of the bureau of health. "The measure will undoubtedly go through, however, as Allegheny has not a separate vote."

"I voted against the Greater Pittsburgh bill at both the regular and extra sessions of the legislature because my constituents wished it," said George J. Schad, member of the legislature from the First district. "I think in the present form the bill is virtually a "ripper," and I would only be in favor of consolidation when a majority of the citizens of Allegheny decided by a vote that they desired it."

H. D. W. English, chairman of the chamber of commerce committee on municipal affairs, said he was gratified, and that the bill was fair to all concerned. Mr. English hopes the election will be held soon, but that time will be given so that a campaign of education can be conducted in Allegheny.

Northside Germans Misled.

"I find," said Mr. English, "that there is a decided sentiment against annexation among the Germans in the eastern part of Allegheny. Politicians have misled them into believing that annexation will increase their taxes."

In dismissing the exceptions filed by the Allegheny public defense committee to the petition for an election filed by City Solicitor Rodgers, as attorney for the petitioner, the city, Judge McClung gave an exhaustive opinion, covering nine typewritten pages. He holds that the act is constitutional; that all the proceedings, beginning with the governor's call and supplementary call for the extra session of the legislature, were regular; that the act is general and broad in its scope, and is not special legislation, as it applies to all cities that are now or may be contiguous or in close proximity or may become so in the future. The exceptants had raised two points, that the legislation is not within the proclamation of the governor calling for the assembly in extraordinary session, and that the act is local or special legislation,

ROOSEVELT SAYS SEND TO PHELAN

'Frisco Finance Committee Recognized—Normal Conditions Restored—Looting Ceases.

RETAIL TRADE IS RESUMED

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, April 25.—President Roosevelt today issued a proclamation urging the American people to now send their contributions for the alleviation of the distress in San Francisco directly to former Mayor James D. Phelan, chairman of the finance committee in San Francisco, instead of to the American Red Cross. The President pays a high tribute to the work accomplished by the citizens' committee of San Francisco and indicates that the necessity of working through the Red Cross exclusively has passed. In the proclamation is the following:

The people of San Francisco, with an energy and self-reliant courage, a cool resourcefulness and a capacity for organized and orderly endeavor which are beyond all praise, have already met the need through committee appointed by the mayor of the city, ex-Mayor James D. Phelan being chairman of the finance committee. The work of these committees has been astonishing in its range, promptness and efficiency. This work has been done with the minimum waste and under conditions which would have appalled men less trained in business methods, endowed with less ability or inspired with any but the highest motives of humanity and helpfulness.

James D. Phelan's Committee.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—The finance committee of relief and Red Cross funds is composed of the principal merchants, bankers and jurists of the city. Following are the members of the committee:

James D. Phelan, chairman; J. Downey Harvey, secretary; William Black, M. E. DeYoung, Frank G. Drumm, James L. Flood, I. W. Hellman, Jr., William F. Herrin, Rufus P. Jennings, Herbert E. Law, Thomas Magee, Garrett McEnerney, John F. Merrill, W. W. Morrow, judge of the United States circuit court; Rudolph Spreckels, Charles Sutro, Jr., and Joseph H. Tobin.

Mayor Schmitz's committee of representative citizens appointed to assist him in the administration of the city's affairs, meets daily. Numerous sub-committees have been appointed, the chairmen of which are members of the citizens' committee. The chairmen of the sub-committees receive their instructions from that body.

"All is well" was the word that went down the line at police headquarters when the uniformed officials had finished their long night vigil through the burned districts and reported off duty to their commanding captains today. It was a night of perfect peace. No looters worked in the open, if at all; the challenge of every guard brought pedestrians to a halt and after giving satisfactory answers to all questions of the challengers they were allowed to go their way in peace. Chief of Police Dinan said this morning:

Normal Conditions Restored.

There is every indication that San Francisco has settled down to almost a normal condition. Our officers are everywhere as usual, but no crimes have been reported for the past 12 hours, and petty thievery has not even kept the upper office men of the department busy. The one perplexing problem that we now have to contend with is the prevention of an unequal distribution of food. Those of the worse element of the city, we find, are living better than they ever did in their lives, while the unfortunates who have never been accustomed to ask for aid are actually suffering. We are doing all in our power to relieve this condition and hope in a few days to get rid of those who are taking everything in sight.

Retail trade was resumed today with a rush in the unburned sections of the city. Grocery stores, butcher shops, delicacy establishments and the like were doing a thriving business at an early hour. On nearly every block on Fillmore street, from McAllister as far as California street, business houses were running full force.

Many of the dealers complain that people who are able to pay for the necessities for life are depending upon the commissaries for their living. All those in a position to pay for staple articles are requested to patronize the stores, so that the unfortunate refugees may have a chance to obtain food at the commissary stations.

Cheering Words From Simonson.

W. A. Simonson, vice president of the National City bank of New York, which has the largest financial connections in this city of any of the eastern banking institutions has come to San Francisco as the personal representative of the bank. Today he made a cheering announcement to the effect that the National City will do all in its power to aid in the rebuilding of San Francisco. The institution for which he speaks is one of the strongest banks in the United States, having behind it the Standard Oil interests. Among its directors are E. H. Harriman, Jacob H. Schiff and William Rockefeller.

Mr. Simonson said today:

I have been deeply impressed by the courage with which you are facing this situation and the wisdom and judgment which is being displayed in meeting it. The unquestioned solvency of your banks and the fact that they will be prepared to meet all reasonable demands will go far toward the maintenance of confidence in the community.

In the necessities of the present and in the requirements of the future, in the restoration of your city and its business, I assure you that the National City bank of New York is prepared and intends to extend to you its resources and influence. We stood up for Galveston; we stood up for Baltimore, and now we are going to stand up for San Francisco.

In my opinion eastern capital in general, realizing the disaster which has wrecked San Francisco, may not be repeated before the end of time, will not hesitate to again invest largely in this city.

MANY BENEFITS WILL SWELL RELIEF FUNDS

All Theaters and Many Private Organizations Working Hard to Help Good Cause.

McMahan's Minstrel Misses, a troupe of 10 special singers who will take part in the big benefit matinee to be given in the Grand opera house tomorrow afternoon for the relief of the San Francisco sufferers, took possession of the various booths located on prominent downtown street corners yesterday, offering for sale benefit tickets to the passing public. The girls remained at their posts from 12:30 to 2:30 in the afternoon, when they left to appear in the theater in burnt cork. Immediately after their act they again took up their positions in the booths. Today the 10 minstrel girls will be assisted by 10 Salvation Army lassies, who will aid them in their charitable work. "Tim" McMahan, manager of the troupe, purchased a gallery seat for $100 yesterday and gave it to a newsboy.

After the close of the stock exchange yesterday James J. Morton, the comedian, offered private boxes for sale, selling one for $100 to S. S. Robertson and one each to H. M. Hooker and J. P. Mahan for $25. Last evening he sold the remaining boxes to people in the Frick building, Union restaurant, Fort Pitt hotel and Hotel Antler.

Large demand has been made for seats for the monster benefit matinee to be given tomorrow afternoon in the Nixon theater, when actors appearing in all local playhouses will take part. Olga Nethersole, Cyril Scott and other stars will appear. The resident and visiting theatrical managers yesterday decided not to call upon Manager Davis of the Grand opera house for contributions to the bill, which is already so long that it will run, it is thought, from 1 until 5:15 o'clock. The following executive committee of patronesses of the benefit applied for 2,000 tickets, guaranteeing to dispose of them: Mrs. H. B. Birch, Mrs. S. A. Ammon, Mrs. Charles B. McLean, Mrs. F. T. F. Lovejoy, Mrs. J. I. Buchanan, Mrs. Joseph H. Moore, Mrs. William Witherow, Mrs. D. C. Noble, Mrs. Christian L. McKee, Mrs. Charles S. Howell and Miss Alice M. Thurston. A box office sale of seats for the benefit will be started in the Nixon at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. Seats are to be obtained at all hotels and department stores. The souvenir programs, flowers, buttons, etc., will be sold in the lobby of the theater by a committee of actresses under the direction of Miss Olga Nethersole.

A sacred benefit concert will be given in the Bijou theater Sunday afternoon by Rocereto's band of 60 pieces, assisted by soloists. Admission will be from 25 cents to $1. An interesting program has been arranged for the sacred benefit concert to be given Sunday in the Empire theater, East End, and many tickets have already been sold.

Severin O. Frank and Luigi von Kunits, assisted by Martha Sandal Branson, will give a recital in Hotel Schenley on the evening of May 3 for the benefit of the San Francisco sufferers. Prominent society women will act as patronesses. Prof. Silas G. Pratt's concert lecture, "From Pan to Wagner," which is to be given in Hotel Schenley Saturday evening for the relief fund, is attracting widespread interest and tickets have been in great demand. The young men of the Look-Up Lift-Up committee of the Shady Avenue Baptist church are arranging for a big benefit performance of their two-act comedy, "Mr. Bob," in the Duquesne garden auditorium next week. It is expected that at least $1,000 will be raised.

SAN FRANCISCO NEEDS BILLS AND CURRENCY

Messages Received Here Indicate That Checks Cannot Be Applied in Stricken City Just Now.

Mayor George W. Guthrie received a telegram yesterday from Gov. Pardee of California, thanking Pittsburgh for its liberal contribution and asking that all further remittances be made to Horace David, treasurer of the San Francisco relief committee, and that the remittances be made in actual cash. Lawrence C. Phipps and H. T. R. Vail sent a message from Santa Barbara to Chairman C. L. Taylor of the Carnegie Hero fund asking that the $35,000 contribution for relief supplies be made at once in cash and by registered mail, insured. Mr. Taylor forwarded $25,000 in cash yesterday.

The Pittsburgh chapter of American Institute of Architects arranged yesterday to receive applications from all architects and draughtsmen who are willing to go to San Francisco and aid in rebuilding the city. F. W. Penny, a student in the Carnegie Technical schools, volunteered his services yesterday and was recommended by Prof. Henry Hornbostel, the architect of the school buildings.

The Salvation Army collected over $100 yesterday in the street contribution boxes and this evening will send a band through the downtown streets for the purpose of raising funds. The Diamond National bank reported the following contributions yesterday to the Red Cross fund: Lawrenceville sub-Auxiliary No. 18, Red Cross society, $99.60; Ferd H. Phillips, $10; cash, $10.

REFUSES HILL A PARDON.

Life Prisoner in the Western Penitentiary Is Doomed to Stay.

James Newton Hill, who is serving a life sentence in the Western penitentiary, was refused a rehearing to an application for a pardon by the pardon board yesterday.

Thirteen years ago Hill killed Mrs. Rose Rotzler, with whom he was infatuated, and slashed his own throat in the West park, Allegheny. Hill's throat was so terribly cut that physicians said his head would be torn off if an attempt was made to hang him. For this reason the death sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. Hill's throat never has and never will heal.

Elks Dedicate New Temple.

PHILADELPHIA, April 25.—(Special.)—The new Elks' temple, erected by lodge No. 2, was dedicated today. Among the prominent speakers were: Senator Boies Penrose, Gov. Montague and Senator Daniel of Virginia.

Came Near Dying

Abscess on the Hip—Dreadful Suffering—Hospital Treatment Failed.

Another Great Cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Charles L. Hutchins is well known and popular in S. Royalton, Vt., being driver of the stage to and from Chelsea. He says of his boy Arthur, now 15, whose portrait appears below:

"He fell on the mill dam and injured his hip. An abscess developed and dreadful sickness followed. The doctors lanced the abscess and later performed an operation in the Mary Fletcher Hospital in Burlington. Arthur came near dying after the operation, but we got him home and neighbors said he would certainly die. In the spring I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, as usual, and gave Arthur a little each day. After a week or two there was a great change in the boy. He seemed hungry, and one day surprised us by exclaiming, 'How good my food tastes!' We could soon see the color coming into his face, as day by day he got better, seemed more lively and took more interest in things.

"The sore is now entirely healed, there is no pain in hip or limb. Arthur goes to school every day and his health could not be better. To our friends his cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla seems miraculous."

Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, eliminates scrofulous tendencies, cures dyspepsia and kidney troubles, gives Sound Health, Restful Sleep. It creates good appetite, relieves all symptoms of dyspepsia, makes one feel better, look better, eat and sleep better.

SPECIAL.—To meet the wishes of those who prefer medicine in tablet form, we are now putting up Hood's Sarsaparilla in chocolate-coated tablets as well as in the usual liquid form. By reducing Hood's Sarsaparilla to a solid extract, we have retained in the tablets the curative properties of every medicinal ingredient except the alcohol. Of druggists, or mailed if your druggist does not have them, 100 doses $1. C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

ACCUSES EDWARDS OF TAKING GRAFT

MORE EVIDENCE IS SECURED

Select Councilman E. J. Edwards of the Second ward, is the second member of the city councils to be publicly accused of trafficking in vice. Mabel Williams, proprietress of a disorderly house in Cherry alley, declared at the police hearing at Central station yesterday that she had agreed to pay Councilman Edwards $4,000 for the "good will" of her house, when she bought the lease.

She says she paid $2,000 and then refused to pay more, although Edwards is alleged to have hounded her with collectors. She says she made the last payment last October. The Williams woman said she paid $85 a month rent for a seven-room house. The place, she said, is owned by William McGarvey, by whom the rent was collected. She says she made the agreement with Edwards on January 2, 1903. She claimed she bought her beer from John J. Sweeney, paying $1 19 a case.

Nine other women whose resorts were raided Tuesday night were given hearings before Magistrate Kirby yesterday. Several testified they leased their houses from real estate firms, but were not permitted by the firms to sign the leases. They said they were required to get the name of some man at the bottom of the lease so the firms could claim they had not leased the houses to the women for disorderly purposes.

"From what I have learned from the mayor and from the newspapers I believe evidence has been obtained implicating certain men in the vice traffic," said District Attorney Stewart yesterday. "When sufficient evidence has been found against any person a bill will certainly be brought before the grand jury by this office. I had a satisfactory interview with Mayor Guthrie, and all the evidence collected by the police will be turned over to this office."

"I am satisfied," said Mayor Guthrie, "that the district attorney will do all in his power to prosecute the guilty persons."

"Select council will do its part, but impeachment proceedings against any member must be started in court, as the law specifically provides," said President Walters of select branch yesterday.

REJECTS LARGE OFFERS FROM RESORT KEEPERS

Refusing a Handsome Revenue—J. K. C. McCune Estate Does Not Own Raided House.

The exorbitant rent forced from the keepers of resorts was instanced yesterday in an interview with a representative of the J. and C. McCune estate, which controls a large amount of real estate downtown. Offers of $50 and $80 a month have been made for houses owned by this estate which are rented for $10 and $15 a month. These offers were refused, as the management of the estate prefers to let property remain idle than have it put to improper uses.

In this connection an error crept into the columns of The Gazette on Wednesday morning. The number of one house raided by the police on Saturday night was given as 824 Second avenue, and the owner as the J. and C. McCune estate. The estate does own this property, but it is not a resort and was not raided. On the contrary, it is used for legitimate business purposes by the Pennsylvania Sash and Door Company.

Close Nine More Houses.

Nine more disorderly houses in the First ward, Allegheny, were closed yesterday by orders from Superintendent John Glenn of the police bureau. The same plan was carried out as in the inauguration of the crusade against the social evil on Monday night, when 46 houses in the Fourth ward were ordered to close. Superintendent Glenn said that he made a tour of the "red light" district Tuesday night and found that his orders were being obeyed to the letter.

METCALF OVERWHELMED WITH THE CONTRIBUTIONS

No Perishable Food Should Be Sent to San Francisco; Only Staples Are Desired.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—Victor H. Metcalf, secretary of commerce and labor, who is here now as President Roosevelt's representative in charge of relief work, is so overwhelmed with contributions that he has been unable to compile any authentic total to date.

"I am reasonably positive that the total is above $6,000,000," said Secretary Metcalf.

The food committee reported today that all necessary provisions were on hand and obtainable. They said that they were even overwhelmed with provisions. Perishable food is causing trouble. Mayor Schmitz drew up a telegram to be sent over the entire United States, requesting all sources of relief to refrain from sending perishable food. Supplies should be limited to staples.

Greely Says Army Is Overtaxed.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—Gen. Greely today assured Mayor Schmitz that the army is willing and anxious to do all in its power in the relief measures. But he begged the municipal authorities to realize that the army is overtaxed and is asked to cover too wide a range of work.

POLICE ARE LOOKING FOR CLEVER SWINDLER

Says He Is Making Bogus Collections for San Francisco Sufferers in This City.

The police are looking for a man who has been making bogus collections in this city for the sufferers in San Francisco. He has collected about $1,000 from residents of East End, Oakland and Lawrenceville. The police throughout the city have been notified but Superintendent McQuaide believes he has left the city.

The man reaped a rich harvest by a house to house canvass. He said he was an agent detailed to this city by the New York relief committee. He said there was to be a large benefit given for the sufferers at the Lexington opera house in New York, and he had been assigned to this city to sell tickets. The price for the tickets was 50 cents and a dollar, and would entitle the purchaser to admission to any theater in this city on next Tuesday.

PITTSBURGHER AMONG THE KNOWN VICTIMS

Charles Singer's Family Learns of His Death—Mrs. Singer Arrives Home. Some Are Still Missing.

Among the first Pittsburghers to arrive from the scene of the disaster were Mrs. George Singer, Jr., and her daughter Miss Louise, who reached home yesterday.

Supt. McQuaide was notified yesterday that Charles Finger was crushed in the ruins of a boarding house in San Francisco. His brother, George, belongs to engine company 5.

F. E. Baldwin of Homestead, received word that his son, David, was safe. Mr. and Mrs. Miller and their son, Max, have notified Homestead friends that they are on their way home, having passed through the earthquake.

Solomon Schambers, 1208 Sheffield street, Allegheny, has heard from his daughter, Mrs. Bertha Hess, who escaped from a hotel in her night clothes, slippers and raincoat, and was separated from her husband in the rush. She walked the streets two days, and then got to Oakland in a skiff.

The following in San Francisco are known to be alive: Mrs. Margaret Lewis Roberts, relative of David Lewis, 5806 Walnut street; daughter of the Rev. George Roesenmuller, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal church, McKeesport; M. Wilhelm, son of J. H. Wilhelm, 511 Kelley avenue, Wilkinsburg, and C. H. Chandler, Charleroi, the father of Mrs. Genevieve Chandler Phipps. Nothing has been heard from Albert Rosser, assistant manager of the sales department of the Carnegie company. Rosser went to San Francisco last December.

Scale Committee Silent.

WILKES-BARRE, April 25.—The anthracite scale committee was in session here all day and at 10 o'clock tonight it adjourned. President Mitchell announced that no statement would be given out.

The Pain Family

You know them; they are numerous, and make their presence felt everywhere. The names of the family are Headache, Toothache, Earache, Backache, Stomach ache, Neuralgia, etc. They are sentinels that warn you of any derangement of your system. When the brain nerves become exhausted or irritated, Headache makes you miserable; if the stomach nerves are weak, indigestion results, and you double up with pain, and if the more prominent nerves are affected, Neuralgia simply makes life unendurable. The way to stop pain is to soothe and strengthen the nerves. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills do this. The whole Pain family yield to their influence. Harmless if taken as directed.

"I find Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills an excellent remedy for overcoming headache, neuralgia and distressing pains of all sorts. I have used them for the past seven years in this capacity with the best of results."
MRS. JOE MERRILL, Peru, Ind.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first package will benefit. If it fails, he will return your money. 25 doses, 25 cents. Never sold in bulk.

CONSTITUTION NO BAR TO GREATER CITY

After relating the history of the act Judge McClung says:

Governor Has Latitude.

The act, so far as we now have to deal with it, simply carries out the purpose designated in the title.

As to the exception based upon the alleged failure of the act to come within the scope of the governor's call, it seems to us that when we have called attention to the hesitancy with which the courts undertake to revise the acts of co-ordinate branches of the government, especially as to the mere forms to be followed in the performance of duties by the executive and legislative departments, to the fact that it is required that the governor's call shall designate not the legislation but the subject of legislation of the special version, and to the fact that there is no constitutional provision specifying the form in which the governor shall couch his designation of subjects of legislation, or as in the case of titles to acts, making such designation indices to the acts to be passed or in any way a part thereof, we have said or suggested all that need be presented on the subject.

Conceding that the courts would hold void legislation passed at an extraordinary session, the subject of which had in no way been mentioned in the governor's call, it does not follow that they will impose upon him their ideas as to the best form in which to put his designation of subjects. If there is a designation which the people understand and the legislators understand, and which the legislature and governor approve as correct, it would seem safe and proper in a matter calling for as broad treatment as the forms preceding legislation to be observed by the governor and the legislature, for the courts to decline to interfere. Kilgore versus Magee, 85 Pa. St. 401. Perkins versus Philadelphia, 456 Pa. St. 454.

Call Was Quite Legal.

Is there, however, anything for us to take hold of even if it is for us to review this matter? Is not the original proclamation sufficient? It certainly designates the subject of legislation with which we are dealing, and even if we concede that it suggests legislation in form not allowable, the constitutional inhibition is directed not to the governor issuing his proclamation, but to the legislators passing the act. It is for the governor in his proclamation to suggest the subject of legislation and for the legislature when in session and the governor when the bill comes to him for approval to see that the legislation upon the suggested subject is in proper form.

Should the governor call a special session to legislate with respect to some matter affecting "Philadelphia," we take it that the subject would be sufficiently designated, although the legislature would be compelled to use "cities of the first class" instead of "Philadelphia" when it came to frame and pass the act.

But waiving all these things, the governor issued a second proclamation in which it is admitted that he designated our subject of legislation in an unexceptionable manner. Exceptants' counsel admit, too, that if he had in addition by this proclamation formally again called the legislature to meet at the same time and place, then so far as this exception is concerned they would have no standing.

In the supplemental proclamation the governor refers to the original and adopts its call, failing to do nothing, even in the view of exceptants, except an utterly useless act—the formal repetition of the call for January 15, 1906.

McKeesport Not Very Close.

We cannot in looking at so broad a subject take a view narrow enough to sustain exceptants' contention. Is the act local or special legislation? As we have seen it provides a method for the consolidation of cities that now are or may hereafter be contiguous or in close proximity with any intervening land other than boroughs."

Pittsburgh and Allegheny are the only cities in the state that are now contiguous. Exceptants say that there are other cities in close proximity to each other, but that boroughs lie between and they vigorously argue that the act is made special by this exclusion of boroughs. This question we think does not arise in the question before, because in our judgment there are no cities in the state not contiguous but in close proximity. Pittsburgh is five miles from McKeesport and Philadelphia is practically the same distance from Chester, boroughs intervening in both cases. It is not even suggested that the act could apply to any other cities. In our judgment these cities cannot be said to be in close proximity and could no more be united under the act without the words "other than boroughs" than can they with them.

Wilkinsburg, a borough of such size that it may at any time become a city, is the same distance from Allegheny that McKeesport is from Pittsburgh, and yet Pittsburgh lies right between Allegheny and Wilkinsburg. When cities are five miles apart they are not for the purposes of an act such as the one we have before us, in close proximity and there are not in Pennsylvania any two cities not contiguous, but in close proximity. We can then deal with the act as if it applied broadly to cities contiguous or in close proximity or in fact for the purposes of the present case as if it applied simply to contiguous cities.

Other Causes Not So Remote.

Does the fact that at the present time only Pittsburgh and Allegheny are in position to act under it render it unconstitutional? Pittsburgh now has two contiguous boroughs, each of such population that it may at any time become a city. In addition to this there are at least two other cases where by the consolidation of two or three boroughs and the obtaining of charters she would have other contiguous cities. The incorporation of these boroughs as cities is not a mere remote possibility; in our judgment it is likely to happen as to some of them, at least, long before Philadelphia has a companion city of the first class.

Under the circumstances, even if Allegheny did not exist, would it not be proper for the legislature if it undertook to legislate upon the subject of consolidation to pass such a bill as the present one, in anticipation of the fact that some of these boroughs might shortly become cities? If so, the fact that there now exists a case to which the act may apply certainly cannot make it unconstitutional.

If anything has been made plain by the supreme court of Pennsylvania, it is that ex necessitate there must be some legislation permissible which applies to some but not all of her cities. We do not understand that there is any magic in the process of classification, or rather in the use of the term "class," which makes that general which was before special, that is, this legislation would not be helped by dividing for the purpose of consolidation the cities into classes contiguous and non-contiguous, and then legislating for one of the classes.

Dismisses Other Points.

The act before us does this very thing in substance and essence. The simple question then is, has the constitution so tied the hands of the legislature that it cannot provide for the consolidation of cities because they lie together, without at the same time providing for the consolidation of those that ought not to be consolidated because they are far separated from each other? Ever since the constitution went into effect it has been conceded that there is such a distinction between Philadelphia and other cities of the commonwealth as to its governmental wants that through classification she has been legislated for alone. Is there not for the purpose of consolidation a much greater distinction between the case of Pittsburgh and Allegheny and that of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia based on contiguity and the want of it than there is for the purpose of city government between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh based on difference in population?

In the cases dealing with this portion of the constitution it is especially easy to find dicta which seem to conflict with our conclusion when they are not read in the light of the case to which they apply or in the light of the other cases relating to the same article.

We consider ourselves, however, in entire accord with the cases on the subject taken as a whole, and are clear that it was entirely competent for the legislature to pass the act under consideration. Something was said upon the argument on the subject of some former additions to Pittsburgh under an act the constitutionality of which was attacked. We do not think it competent for the exceptants to raise that question here.

We are of opinion that the exceptions filed should be dismissed, and that the petition and proceedings are regular and in conformity with the act of assembly, and that the election should be ordered.

MISS NETHERSOLE PLAYS THE SPANISH GIRL, "CARMEN"

Dramatic Version of Prosper Merrimee's Old Story Afford Actress Fine Scope.

Miss Olga Nethersole played two widely different roles at the Nixon last night. As the almoner for sweet charity's sake she appeared and in womanly fashion sold at auction the only remaining box for the big San Francisco benefit, receiving therefor $100 from Phillip Flinn, and as the reincarnation of Prosper Merimee's Spanish seduced of the Basque provinces, she proved afresh the versatility and realism of her art. It was as Carmen in Hamilton's version of this story that Miss Nethersole gained her first great popular success in this country. Some of this was due to offensive realism, but most of it came legitimately as a tribute to one of the most complete and sensuous portrayals of the role that has ever been seen. The operatic Carmen may possess all the refinement of rhythmic art, but it is the dramatic Carmen that furnishes us with a working idea of the devilishness and fate defying passion of the cigaret girl. Miss Nethersole reaches some splendid heights of sheer emotionalism in this role and these heights are not in the sensuous scenes, either. In her hands the character becomes intensely psychic. She strikes the keynote of fatalism in the first lines she addresses to the weak and putty-like Don Jose, and it pervades the entire play, reaching a thrilling climax in the card scene amid the lightning flashes of the mountains.

The actress has modified some parts of her portrayal and elaborated others. She no longer seems to stress the mere lasciviousness of the part, and her elaboration of the death scene in the last act makes it a ghastly and powerful piece of realism. With all its license in the way of sex suggestion this dramatic version is not without the strong moral lesson, when it may be regarded as quite the best piece of acting that Miss Nethersole does in her present repertoire. The company is mainly good. Mr. Revelle's Don Jose is sometimes inarticulate, but it is as manly as the role will allow, and acted with spirit and sincerity. Miss Lyons Dolores is straightforward and intelligent, but she, too, suffers sometimes from vocal haste and indistinctness. The play is beautifully mounted, excelling in this particular anything that the best grand opera management has ever given us. Tonight "Sapho."

BABY'S TORTURING SKIN HUMOR

Ears Looked as if They Would Drop Off—Body Entirely Covered—Face Mass of Sores—Three Doctors Could Not Cure—Child Grew Worse—Face and Body Now Clear

CURED BY CUTICURA IN TWO WEEKS FOR 75c.

Mrs. George J. Steese, of 701 Coburn St., Akron, Ohio, tells in the following letter of another of those remarkable cures of torturing, disfiguring skin humors daily made by Cuticura Soap, assisted by Cuticura Ointment, after physicians, and all else had failed: "I feel it my duty to parents of other poor suffering babies to tell you what Cuticura has done for my little daughter.

She broke out all over her body with a humor, and we used everything recommended, but without results. I called in three doctors, they all claimed they could help her, but she continued to grow worse. Her body was a mass of sores, and her little face was being eaten away; her ears looked as if they would drop off. Neighbors advised me to get Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and before I had used half of the cake of Soap and box of Ointment the sores had all healed, and my little one's face and body were as clear as a new-born babe's. I would not be without it again if it cost five dollars, instead of seventy-five cents, which is all it cost us to cure our baby, after spending many dollars on doctors and medicines without any benefit whatever."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for every Humor, from Pimples to Scrofula, from Infancy to Age, consists of Cuticura Soap, 25c., Ointment, 50c., Resolvent, 50c. (in form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c. per vial of 60), may be had of all druggists. A single set often cures the most distressing cases, when all other remedies, and even the best physicians fail. Our Great Industrial Exposition

Notice to Parents---Especially Mothers

The coming Saturday it is our intention to turn this store into a juvenile occasion of much merit, in other words nothing more nor less than a distinctly children's day—we believe something never thought of before in a retail store. Details of the day will follow in our news of tomorrow.

Several of the divisions of our store will have nice little mementos of the occasion to present to the children. The stocking division will give to the doll of every little girl who brings it along with her, a pair of the Burson Seamless Stockings. Come with your children, and if you can't come, put them in the hands of some one who is coming.

A Practical Demonstration of Mechanical Trade Processes.

That is the scope of our Industrial Exhibit. This is a mechanical age. In this Industrial Exhibit we show the marvelous twentieth century machinery that creates perfect products, and we also show the evolution of it, for instance, from the old-time spinning wheel at work to the modern power weaving loom. There is machinery here endowed almost with human intelligence, cunningly and skillfully devised, machinery that is rapidly making American manufacturers leaders in the productive world.

Candidly we had no idea, when discussing this inovation that it would arouse such universal interest. Only yesterday the principal of one of the public schools telephoned us he had some 50 to 70 scholars, from 14 to 17 years of age, who wished to see the exhibit, and wanted to know when it would be convenient to have them come in a body. Our answer was to come this morning as early as possible if they would like to study the machinery without being crowded.

And that is the intent of this exhibit, to show people, especially the younger generation, what ingeniously constructed machinery is at work year in and year out in the interests of the commercial welfare of a great people.

To those who intend bringing any number of young people in a body to see the different exhibits we would be pleased to know in advance what time to expect them so that we may be in readiness with escorts. However, if they prefer to go it alone they're just as welcome.

16-button Glace Kid Gloves, black only, were $3.75, now $3.25 a pair.

The Evolution of the Envelope Wallet.

In our Leather Goods Division, those who are interested in the making up of leather can witness the cutting out, the putting together and the finishing, of a wrist bag or an envelope wallet, for women, thus seeing exactly how the thing is done.

It's quite an interesting study to watch these expert men and women making these feminine belongings.

Exquisite Lingerie Waists Less Than Cost

These handsome lingerie models are not describable in print. There is only one way to comprehend their beauty, and that is by the eye. There is no time of the year when lingerie waists are more thought of than now, and there has been no season when waists were more needed than the present. Eton Suits and the new skirts demand these kind of waists.

It gives us pleasure to say this line of waists represents the best waist house of New York, whose headquarters in Paris sends them weekly the very latest ideas of the Fashion world. The waists are beautifully trimmed with the flimsiest laces, and the daintiest embroideries. Medallions and little tucks here and there tell of the feminine hand that has had a part in the yoke or in the pretty sleeves.

Materials are fine lawn and batiste, which, by the way, were imported, being the finest white goods that can be used for waists.

Waists at $3.50 that are worth $ 6.00 to $ 7.50.
Waists at $5.00 that are worth $ 8.00 to $10.00.
Waists at $6.50 that are worth $10.00 to $12.00.
Waists at $ 8.50 that are worth $13.50 to $16.50.
Waists at $10.00 that are worth $18.00 to $22.00.
Waists at $12.50 that are worth $25.00.

Thursday, April 26, 1906.

Japan's sympathy for San Francisco is expressed in a manner characteristic of the Japanese people. It takes the form of a Red Cross hospital ship and a large number of nurses. To this foreign offering neither the President nor any American citizen can offer reasonable objection on any ground. It is a delicate tribute and must be appreciated.

In deference to the tall men of New Castle, the city government there has decreed that no awning shall be placed at a less height than eight feet from the sidewalk. This order is the result of numerous complaints that awnings have scraped off male head coverings, when the owners desired to "keep on the lid." The city authorities considered the feasibility of having the tall man's lid sat upon, but on mature reflection decided to raise the awnings instead.

An interesting meeting of the much talked of public safety committee was held yesterday and favorable action was taken on all ordinances proposed by the administration, including that for 15 additional sanitary policemen. President Walters of select council, member ex officio, was present and was active in forwarding the business. Dr. Walters gives promise of being one of the most useful and energetic officers councils have had in many years.

President Roosevelt's urgent recommendation of the appropriations for the Mare Island navy yard and the army supply depot at San Francisco, in order to give employment to idle men there, is above criticism. It is compensation for some previous recommendations concerning management of relief funds that were not well received by the heroic citizens who rose to the emergency in the time of sore distress. It is a practical suggestion.

District Attorney Stewart announces he will do his duty in the matter of prosecuting the owners and keepers of disorderly houses, as fast as he can obtain necessary evidence. Of course he will. The Gazette promised that much for him yesterday. He has not failed to do his duty since he took office. Meantime the police administration should play no favorites, but proceed against all alike and turn the evidence over to the district attorney for his further action. The machine will work all right if all pull together.

Over 225,000 persons have been carried by the railroads from San Francisco since the earthquake, and free transportation to the amount of $400,000 has been furnished. The amount of free freight transportation cannot be estimated at present. Corporations of every description have joined with individuals in generously contributing to the relief of the suffering, but the railroads, on account of their peculiar facilities, have been able to perform a strikingly conspicuous service and one which will not be forgotten by the country.

Fire in a power house a few nights ago deprived Oil City and Franklin of street lights and street car service in the towns and between them. The inconvenience is severely felt by both. When we learn the cause was a fire in the pine ceiling of the brick boiler house, and that $300,000 worth of machinery was destroyed, the wonder grows. The interest for one year on the amount lost would have paid the difference in cost of metal or concrete in place of the wood and then no fire could have found hold. There is need for the broader education of architects and engineers in this country.

The announcement made yesterday of the program for the coronation of Norway's new king shows that his opposition to fuss and feathers is as pronounced as ever. In the omission of the triumphant procession all precedents are broken. Recent visitors to Norway report that Haakon is the most democratic of kings, strolling through the streets of the capital and gazing in at the shop windows. The very mode of address adopted, "Mr. King," illustrates the great change in royal forms of estiquette that has taken place in Norway, and one which may not be without effect on other courts of Europe.

Representatives in congress spent a few pleasant hours yesterday in lauding the American farmer and praising the American hen. The occasion was offered by the agricultural appropriation bill, which also covers the congressional distribution of garden and field seeds that sometimes grow. The hen comes close to this subject, since she gets the greater part of the seeds. They are all right as poultry feed, but just as good could be purchased by the government for far less money. The approaching campaign was not mentioned, but when congress is busy with the farmer and the hen the campaign is not out of mind.

The selection of George Wise of Wheeling as chairman of state Republican committee of West Virginia is a most happy one, because it will do more to compose the differences between the factions in the party than any other choice. The fact that he received the unanimous vote of the committee shows the confidence the state administration and anti-administration members of the committee had in his fairness. Mr. Wise was the postmaster at Wheeling under President McKinley's first administration. He is a successful business man of considerable wealth, attractive personality, cool and deliberate under fire and a gentleman of strict probity of character. With him at the head of the state committee there need be no fear that West Virginia will lapse into the Democratic column.

Greater City Law Upheld.

In a very clear opinion, rendered yesterday, Judge Samuel A. McClung upholds the Greater Pittsburgh act. He holds the governor was clearly within his legal right in calling the extra session and in making a supplementary call, including subjects not mentioned in the original. He rejects the plea of special and local legislation in violation of the constitution, pointing out the enactment is general in its scope, applying to any cities that are now or that may hereafter become contiguous.

It is probable the opposition may take an appeal to the supreme court. If such a step is contemplated it should be taken without delay. Uncertainty on this subject has been long enough protracted. We believe the people are anxious to have it decided. We believe they are eager to have the question of consolidation submitted to a vote and we believe when it is submitted the vote will be overwhelmingly in the affirmative.

There is not a single good reason advanced why the cities of Pittsburgh and Allegheny should not be one municipality. Many good reasons have been urged for consolidation. Without recounting these seriatim we may mention the one reason that is notably conspicuous at the moment—the better management of the crusade against vice. As each city begins to wage war against vicious resorts there is an exodus to the other. They may, by co-operation, overcome this in time, but if the cities were under one government, one campaign would be conclusive. Hurry up the Greater Pittsburgh.

A First Wife's Revenge.

If modern novelists are to be believed, wives often make the death bed threat that if their husbands marry again they will return to haunt them. Now a second wife at Goshen, N. Y., has vindicated the authors' reputation for realism by presenting extremely novel grounds in her suit for a legal separation. Mrs. Ellis alleges that the ghost of her predecessor is making life unbearable for her, but she believes the persecution would cease if the courts would free her from Mr. Ellis. The wraith of the original Mrs. Ellis follows her about the house, appearing when least expected, and making menacing motions with its ghastly fists. Sometimes she is awakened at night by a bright light in the room, only to find the ghost of Mrs. Ellis No. 1 standing by her bedside, its fingers clutching convulsively at the air. Often in the daytime she encountered the spook strolling about the backyard and peering into the windows, a proceeding calculated to try the nerves of any woman. The ghost, strange to say, does not attempt to haunt Mr. Ellis, and he believes there is "no sich a thing," but Mrs. Ellis has presented her testimony to the court and it must be passed upon in the usual manner.

It is evident that first wives, either through thoughtlessness or malignity, can cause much distress of mind to their successors. There is absolutely no excuse for their return. It sets a bad example for one thing. It also indicates a distaste for their new surroundings which we cannot but regard as significant. The ghost that would snap its spooky fingers at the supreme court of New York would do anything. It is to be hoped the majesty of the law will prevail, as usual, and that the restless spirit will bow to the proposed compromise. Otherwise it may have set an extremely awkward precedent.

Americans at Athens.

American athletes, as was expected, are giving a good account of themselves at the Olympian games in Athens, winning first place yesterday in the swimming race and the discus throwing contest. The cosmopolitan character of the events is illustrated by the fact that a Hungarian and Australian, an Englishman, a Greek and a Finn were the other prize winners. The United States has a larger representation of athletes than any other nation except Greece, and as usual in such international competitions, will doubtless secure the lion's share of prizes. The wholesome spirit of amateur sport, the pleasure of competing amid such inspiring surroundings, however, outweighs any desire for mere prize-winning. The competitors are proud of representing their countries and of assisting in a revival of the glorious games of old.

Almost every form of athletic sport is included in the modern Olympian games. There are all kinds of foot races, jumping, weight throwing, weight lifting, tugs-of-war, swimming, rowing, bicycling, fencing, tennis, shooting and football. Every nation can boast some expert in one or more of these exercises. In these enlightened days, when physical culture has become not a fad, but an established custom, it is fitting that the world should witness an exhibition of so wholesome and inspiring a nature, and the degree of interest which is being manifested by the reading public in this great event is a hopeful sign of the times.

No Tariff Repeal.

We do not believe San Francisco is a party to the cry for a repeal of the tariff on structural steel while the city is rebuilding. There is no occasion for such repeal. American manufacturers can supply the demand. Pittsburgh mills can do it and would set other work aside if necessary that rebuilding should not be retarded. This at prices hardly greater than would be paid for foreign material if the tariff should be removed. In a recent hearing before the committee on merchant marine and fisheries, Judge Gary, chairman of the United States steel corporation, quoted the prices in this country and abroad. By that statement it may be seen the export prices of Great Britain, Germany, France, Austria and Belgium, on structural shapes range from $1 25 to $1 45, while the American price is about $1 60. Adding freight the price, delivered, would give no appreciable advantage to the San Francisco builders, but might take much money from this country.

President Roosevelt rejected foreign contributions to the relief fund and it would be a remarkable exhibit on the part of congress to extend an invitation to foreign manufacturers to supply the material for rebuilding the city. While Germany is building its tariff wall higher and is paying a bounty on steel exports, to enable her manufacturers to quote low prices, there is no call for the United States to open the door even in the face of a calamity. Great Britain is not in position to furnish the material more promptly than this country can, and having a higher production cost and no bounty could not compete with Germany in the bidding.

Should material be brought from abroad it would benefit neither the railroads nor the industrial concerns which have given so liberally to the sufferers. All would come direct by water in foreign bottoms. San Francisco would be ashamed to rebuild with foreign steel. The members of congress who introduced the bills declare they did so under the misapprehension that American mills could not supply the demand. That impression having been corrected there is just one proper course to take. That is to withdraw the bills and let the matter drop. No hardship will be imposed thereby on the San Francisco rebuilders.

Another Earthquake.

Another quite severe earthquake shock was felt in San Francisco yesterday, sufficient to throw down partly ruined walls. This will not surprise geologists. Shocks of greater or less intensity may continue for weeks. It is always possible that shocks may occur greater than that which caused the greatest property destruction in modern times. Even upheaval or subsidence of the coast line are among the geological probabilities. We can only hope for the best and that the plucky survivors may be permitted to rebuild in peace.

A Foolish Protest.

A minority report on the Gardner immigration bill was filed yesterday by Representatives Bennet and Ruppert of New York. They contend the bill would tend to keep out desirable immigrants, specifying English, Irish, Scotch, Germans and Finns. The protest ought to have little or no effect. Representative Bennet is the same individual who tried to get through the special bill, some time ago, to suspend the present immigration law in favor of a pronounced idiot, who has now been twice deported. He and Ruppert represent districts in which the steamship interests are influential.

It is hardly possible to exclude the undesirably immigrants without also shutting out a few who would make good citizens. But the law has erred on the side of liberality too long. We have reached a condition where it will be vastly better to shut out a few deserving persons in damming the turbid stream than to let in a horde of undesirables for the benefit of a few of the other sort. There is urgent necessity for some sort of restriction that will reduce the number of immigrants and that will filter the flood.

A Trenton clergyman said to the Epworth league convention in Atlantic City yesterday, he would rather see the saloons open any time than the theaters. To which the famous reply of the southern darky may be made: "Its a mattah of taste; jist 'cordin' to how one's raised."

In the last few days Father Gapon has been reported hanged, in prison and stirring up a new revolution in St. Petersburg, all of which will probably turn out to be exaggerated.

It is a matter for congratulation that periodical "muckrakers" are so long after the President in making reply that there is little left to be said.

It will now be a long, anxious wait for the world until Mr. Wellman cables that the north pole has been tracked to its secret lair.

Anybody who wishes to appear eccentric can simply refrain from contributing to the San Francisco fund.

It is to be the Greater Pittsburgh in fact as well as name, despite the efforts of the contractionists.

A good reliable earthquake forecaster could get a steady job at San Francisco just now.

A good many of the earthquake poems are appropriately shaky in their metre.

Russia is once more in her normal condition of facing a crisis.

Cleaning out the dives is dirty work, but it has to be done.

Hurrah for Great Pittsburgh again.

What Pennsylvania Farmers Are Doing.

What is true of the farming region around Pennsylvania today is also true of farm lands in Washington county. Ten or 15 years ago farmers were more or less discouraged; they were trying to meet the fierce competition of the west—trying to beat the western agriculturists at their own game. Latterly, however, there has been a change in methods. Farmers in this county are taking advantage of Pittsburgh and eastern markets. They are supplying vegetables for the city folks and allowing the westerner, with his tremendous acreage, to grow wheat.—Washington Observer.

The Touch of Nature.

The touch of nature was shown the other day when the survivors of the Slocum disaster met and sent a message of sympathy to the San Francisco sufferers.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

But One Burned "Witches" Once.

Springfield, Mass., and Springfield, Ill., can still point with pride to the fact that they do not promiscuously lynch human beings, anyway.—Topeka State Journal.

SURE TO COME.

It's coming, coming, coming—I can feel it in the air—
I can hear the wind's sigh, in the skies so blue and fair;
I can see it in the willows where they nod and dip and bend,
I can hear it in the melody the feathered songsters send,
And my feet are growing restless just to press familiar ways—
Just to press the paths of summer with its laziness and haze.
I can see it in the dreaming—and—there comes the lilting song
Of the drowsy, drowsy Junetime; as I plod the path along
I can see the mesh grass waving, and there comes the subtle smell
Of the freshness of the meadows; I can see the shaded dell
Where the water bubbles sparkling; I can see the glinting dew
On the glories as they smile and whisper "Howdy-do" to you.
I can see the sprinkled heavens when the night is peaceful still
And I hear the night bird yonder call its mate beyond the hill
I can hear the bees' dull droning as they flit about and sip
From the hearts of laden blossoms stores of nectar—honey drips.
I can feel it stealing softly, necromantic, and to you
All the world will soon be saying: "I'm Miss Summer, howdy-do."

The World's a Stage and We the Players

Gossip of Men and Things on Both Sides of the Asbestos Curtain.

By Charles M. Bregg.

Is there a memory in Pittsburgh that can accurately recall the last performance in this city of Shakespeare's "King Lear?" This tragedy of the Forrest, Booth and elder Salvini period has been so little acted within the past quarter of a century that we youngsters who endeavor to recall it are at sea, while the records and the "oldest theatergoer" are a bit hazy on the subject. A dramatic writer in Philadelphia had occasion to write an article on the subject of Lear and in the course of his observations said the tragedy had not been played in that city since Edwin Booth's time, or, to be specific, since 1873. The editor of the compositor in the newspaper office evidently thought better of it, and the writer of the historical resume was somewhat astonished to find next morning this line interpolated: "Save for the performances of the play by Frederick Warde a few years later."

I am beset by the ghost of this experience and fear that should I say that a certain date and player marked "Lear's" last Pittsburgh appearance some more accurate memory would bob up and interject the saving clause.

+ + +

I have on my desk two old programs of Pittsburgh theaters, one the opera house, the other, name not mentioned. One is of a performance of "King Lear" by Edwin Forrest and is dated January 26, 1872. Now the question is, Is that the last professional Lear that the Pittsburgh stage has seen? This performance at the opera house must have been in the Ellsler days for I note that the elder Effie Elisler is the Cordelia, while J. Newton Gotthold played Edgar. The cast, by the way, affords some names familiar to present-day theatricals, though in the main the players are of another generation and their names are only a memory at best. D. G. Loane was the Duke of Burgundy, and J. Swinburn the Duke of Gloster. J. E. Irving, of whom this gossip has spoken before, was the Oswald and I notice by the program that a benefit was proposed for him on the following evening.

Milton Nobles played Edmund in this cast and our old friend W. H. Crompton was the Physician.

+ + +

Of Harry Rowe, H. S. Duffield, J. F. Dean, T. J. Wademan, H. P. Wilson, Miss Lolla Brown, Miss Easten, Miss Nellie Johnson, Mrs. Isabella Phillips and Miss Flora Newton, the present theatergoers know nothing. Our old friend of whom we have written, Ogden Stevens, played the first Knight. This old program lets us know that "notwithstanding the expense attending the engagement of Mr. Forrest, the prices will remain the same." What those prices were is not stated. We are also informed that at the Saturday matinee the "great five-act play, 'Through the Fire,' will be presented by request." A footnote also repeats the information of all the Forrest bills in this city and says that Mr. Forrest will not play at the matinees nor at the Saturday evening performance.

This data of the program, however, does not aid in the solution of the question as to whether this Friday night performance of Lear in 1872 was really the last performance by noteworthy professional talent in Pittsburgh of the tragedy. I have my doubts, but so far I have not put my hands on any actual dates and names that would give a later performance.

+ + +

But I have an earlier Lear program of a Pittsburgh theater which is more interesting because it states the "positively last appearance of Mr. Edwin Booth" in this role. The date is November 26, 1870. (I note, by the way, that Pittsburgh is spelled with the final "h" in this program.) The opera house was under the control of Henderson and Canning, lessees, while Walter Donaldson was the stage manager. We are told that the evening performances begin "at quarter of 8 o'clock and the box office is open from 9 to 4 o'clock." This performance was on Saturday evening, which shows that Mr. Booth did not share Forrest's prejudice against Pittsburgh Saturday night performances. There was a matinee performance on this same day of "Hamlet," in which Booth appeared as the Dane and Ettie Henderson was the Ophelia. If programs tell the truth this was the last Booth-Lear that Pittsburgh saw, and this was 1870. The cast was a strong one with Ettie Henderson featured as Cordelia, while W. H. Crompton was the Duke of Burgundy and Florence Noble was one of the minor female characters. Gotthold played Edgar as he did in the Forrest production, and Irving was Oswald and Og. Stevens the Herald. Georgie Dickson, who afterward became famous as a comedienne, played the role of the Fool.

+ + +

This old program has several interesting features about it that will recall the days when theatrical entertainment was not quite so opulent and popular as today. The scale of prices put the boxes at $8, but $2 were charged for the orchestra chairs. It is stated in a footnote that "children in arms" will positively not be admitted. Announcement is also made of the forthcoming engagement of Mr. Joseph K. Emmet, in Charles Gayler's play "Fritz," which gives another delightful twinge to the memories of old theatergoers.

But these programs, interesting as they are, prove nothing to the point in discussion beyond the supposition that Edwin Booth acted "King Lear" in Pittsburgh for the last time on November 26, 1870, unless the program of that day had a Patti-like habit of giving players their farewells. Two years later than this date Forrest played Lear in this city and there my record stops. Can any one supply the gap?

+ + +

One old theatergoer when questioned said that Mantell had played the role here, which proves anew what tricks ones memory will play on him. Mantell never essayed the role in his life until this season in New York. It is this actor's performance of the role in Pittsburgh next Monday evening that has inspired this gossip and inquiry. If the data I have given above be correct Mantell's Lear will be the first in Pittsburgh in 34 years, a rather astonishing fact when one comes to consider how this old tragedy used to be a sort of sign manuel among the aspiring tragedians. The play was first published in quarto form in 1608 with this title page:

"Mr. William Shakespeare: His True Chronicle Historie of the Life and Death of King Lear and His Three Daughters."

+ + +

We are further informed that the play was first presented before the king at Whitehall "upon S. Stephan's night in Christmas Hollidayes." As everybody familiar with English literature knows the story of "King Lear" is one of the oldest on record in English literary annals. It was dramatized long before Shakespeare touched it, but the genius of that master mind gave us what Rolfe calls a "sublimated version of the story." If Lear was an historical character he is supposed to have lived in the eighth century, declares Rolfe, and that may be taken as the time of the dramatic action for the whole atmosphere is pagan, barbarous and rude.

But the main question is, When and by whom was Lear last played in Pittsburgh? Was the play presented here during the Booth and Barrett revivals and will some one vouch for its date?

TOWN TALES: TALKS WITH TRAVELERS

STREET SCENES | By PETER PRY SHEVLIN | LOBBY CHATTER

The Switchman's Rebuke.

A Pennsylvania railroad official shortly before leaving for Chicago last night, told this story in the Union station of how liquor was the cause of delaying a New York express train in the local yards a few years ago. It seems that a new switchman carried out to his work a big bottle of whisky. The switchman took one long swig and began to think that he should be section boss. He took another drink and thought he was district superintendent.

The switchman, suddenly growing exalted, took several more drinks and then thought that he should have President A. J. Cassatt's job. There he stopped and devoted himself to keeping up the dignity of the presidency with his whisky bottle.

Just then a fast express passed out of the Union station and began to make speed through the yards. The switchman staggered out, swung his lamp and brought the train, with much grinding of brakes to a sudden halt. Brakemen and passengers rushed out to see what the matter was and great excitement prevailed.

"Hello!" cried the conductor. "What's the trouble?"

The switchman-president slowly pulled out his watch and said severely:

"You are 45 seconds late. Don't let it happen again!"

A Wonderful Hair-Grower.

The man in the shiny black alpaca coat tip-toed into a downtown business office yesterday afternoon, opened his shabby satchel and produced a gaudy bottle.

"You see here a hair-restorer, the greatest of its kind, guaranteed to grow hair even on a billiard ball. It is positively the most wonderful, infallible——"

"Cut out the superlatives, friend," said the business man. "I used to be a drummer myself. Now, you seem to have the making of a good liar in you, and to encourage you, I'll buy a bottle if you can tell me a whopping good story of the restorer's merits."

"Oh, no," said the agent virtuously. "I wouldn't tell a lie on the subject—it isn't necessary. But I'll tell you a wonderful and true story of its merits."

"Go as far as you like."

"Two weeks ago I went out to the Carnegie institute and stood gazing at the skeleton of the diplodocus—a prehistoric animal that has been dead thousands of years, but which in life had a thick hairy covering. Seized with sudden inspiration while looking at that skeleton thousands of years old, I whipped out a bottle of this hair restorer and rubbed some of it on the forefeet and legs of the ancient monster."

"Well?"

"Yesterday I went back and caught one of the museum attendants shaving the forefront of the animal. Thick reddish hair was sprouting on it—after tens of thousands of years! I found that they were giving the animal a clean shave every day to ward off a scientific scandal and to——"

"That's enough," said the business man. "Give me two bottles, and if you ever want a job writing advertisement of summer resorts, just call on me!"

Foreigners Like Litigation.

"Over 2,000,000 civil suits are brought in this country every year," said a corporation lawyer yesterday, "and if the plaintiffs were different in every case it would indicate that one person in every eight of our voting population was this engaged sometime during the year. As the matter stands, because some persons and firms have the litigation habit and get five or six times their share of law, I should judge that there are only about 400,000 plaintiffs and the same number of defendants every year, which makes about 800,000—only one per cent of our population.

"Notwithstanding common talk, it is not the number of lawyers in a country that encourages law suits, but the number of laws and contradictory statutes. In this country it is generally the case that the largest amount of litigation does not originate with Americans, but with foreigners who go to law over trifling matters.

"This country holds the world's record for damage suits, but in the general total of civil suits of all kinds, Germany exceeds us by over 50 per cent. Great Britain follows the American record of 2,000,000, with a total of over 1,600,000 law suits, with Italy close behind with 1,400,000 and France with less than 1,000,000.

"Pock-Marked" Tobacco.

The customer in a downtown tobacconists' yesterday was complaining loudly because the last box of cigars he had purchased totally lacked the little white specks that are popularly supposed to denote high grade tobacco.

"That notion among tobacco users has long since faded," smiled the cigar dealer. "Principally because manufacturers met the popular demand by sprinkling acid on the tobacco and making these 'pock-marks.'

"These small specks when natural are the effect of tropical conditions. A storm comes up and the heavy shower of rain leaves the tobacco plant dotted with big raindrops. When the sun shines again in tropical fierceness these raindrops act as 'burning lenses,' and by concentrating the sun's rays, burn these freckles on the weed. The have absolutely no significance."

Medical Value of Fruits.

"The medical value of fruits is a fact that cannot be too much emphasized at this season of the year," said a prominent Pittsburgh physician who is not an absolute adherent to drugs. "The actual value of fruits has not been fully realized by physicians until the last three years, and except from the standpoint of 'herb doctoring' has not been recognized by the majority of patients. Fruits aid nature wonderfully.

"The fruits that come under the head of laxatives are the orange, prune, fig, mulberry, date and plum. The astringents are cranberries, blackberries, raspberries, cherries, quinces and pears. The diuretics, which are much good to the gouty, rheumatic and the kidney and bladder sufferers, are gooseberries, red and white currants, pumpkins and melons. Splendid stomach sedatives are lemons, limes and apples.

"Apples, by the way, cure the nausea that follows smoking, and are a splendid diet for the drinker who has 'sworn-off.' They kill the desire for alcoholics. An orange in the morning is a splendid laxative. Pomegranates and persimmons will relieve sore throats and uvula. Figs, split open, form good poultices for boils and small abcesses. Strawberries and lemons remove tartar from the teeth. Grapes and raisins are very nutritious and of great value in the sick room."

When We Appreciate Them.

It is an old saying that "we never miss the water till the well runs dry." It is much the same with the street cars. Now that they are not running, in consequence of the destruction of the power house, the citizens miss them and miss them badly, like some other blessings which are not appreciated at their full value until they have flown.—Oil City Blizzard.

Quiet Observations on Timely Topics

There Must Be a Sufficient Cause for Men and Women Not Marrying.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

"You are right in saying that it is because they are not asked that teachers do not marry," writes a veteran teacher. "I have been teaching for many years—I will not say how many—but there was never a time after I had passed my majority that I wouldn't have accepted a good offer to marry. But it came not. My sisters did not take to teaching and are happily married.

"And yet they have envied me more or less, feeling that I was having such good times, no house to look after, no children to care for, nothing to bother, and with money enough to meet all my wants. But I envy them the more, for they have something on which to bestow loving care, something to live for, something to look forward to when they grow old.

"An old maiden lady is about as desolate an object as I have ever seen, withered and dying alone, with no chick nor child upon which to bestow motherly care and blessings. About all that is left for then is to gossip, or grumble, or fret. Old men can find something to do, but women have only to think for themselves, and on themselves.

"Teaching is an honorable calling, and one in which I find much pleasure, and take a great deal of interest, but the end looks dreary and uninviting, more so than if I had children upon whom to bestow my love and build my hopes."

* * *

Surely there is a good and sufficient reason why more women who have taken to teaching and doing office work, do not marry.

As they say, the main reason is that no man asks them.

But why don't men ask them? That's the point at issue.

No man respects a woman less because she is a teacher, or in some respectable employment. And yet the average man doesn't seem inclined to go among these to look for a wife.

Or, does any man go out looking for a wife? Doesn't he simply drift into the matrimonial net, get tangled in its meshes, and conclude to accept the situation and settle down?

* * *

Why did you marry?

Was it because, after thinking long and deliberately over the matter, you decided that it was your bounden duty, or that it would be an economical move on your part, or that in order to keep in the swim you must marry?

Ten to one the chances are that you didn't think anything of the sort, but just fell in with a girl that seemed fit to become your other half, followed her around, felt happier in her presence than anywhere else, and finally made it up with her to marry and thus be with her all the time instead of now and again?

And the chances are that you made no fuss about popping the question, such as getting a little speech ready, flopping down on your knees and begging her to accept you just to keep you from jumping into the river, or blowing your brains out, but it popped itself without noise or confusion?

For some reason or other teachers do not go out in society as much as women who are not engaged in regular employment; nor do they figure prominently in social events, picnics, straw rides, or excursions.

This may be their own fault in a large measure, for they are likely to feel that they have other fish to fry, as the saying goes, or that their labors are such as to make them tired, and their duties such as to demand a concentration of mind and heart on them to the neglect of love, courtship, and the like.

And some girls, when they become teachers, feel that they belong to an exclusive set, and must appear dignified, and stop running around with the boys.

It is said of some that they feel stuck-up, hold themselves above their old set, and give the mitten to boys with whom they had formerly been glad to associate.

* * *

It is not at all probable that ante-matrimonial clauses in contracts, warning against marriage by boards, or principals, has much to do with keeping school teachers from marrying, because opposition like that only helps matters along.

As you may know yourself, about the best way to insure a marriage is for the parents and friends of both parties to oppose it. This only leads the young folks to take a deeper and heartier interest in each other. The truth of this has been demonstrated so often that it is not necessary to stop here to argue the point.

And it is probably true that such matches turn out better than those contrived by parents and friends.

That which costs most trouble and effort is most prized.

* * *

It may not be far amiss to say that one of the principle reasons why teachers do not marry is that they haven't time to think about it, and to devote to helping matters along.

While love will find its way, though blind it be, the fact remains that it can be helped wonderfully, and at no greater cost than a little careful attention.

True, a girl may avoid the thing by being too busy, too fussy, and too attentive. Men don't like to be run after. They want to do the running themselves. All the girls have to do is to make the running pleasant.

Men appreciate being encouraged so long as it doesn't amount to coercing.

And then, men boastful of their independence, like to feel that they are doing the leading in love affairs, and that the women in the case are merely following their lead.

The wise woman will let them think they are leading, even think they are the whole thing, while at the same time she is preparing paths for them to lead in. And the men will lead just as lovely and as proudly along these as along the paths they have mapped out and prepared themselves.

But the question still remains, Why don't more school ma'ms marry?

Is it their own faults, or that of the so-called lords of creation?

CASUAL GLIMPSES AROUND THE CITY

H. S. Goldberg, eastern representative of the Consolidated California Vineyard Company, representing 14 vineyard companies, and the largest wine corporation in California, said last night: "According to advices I have just received the prices of native wine in the United States will immediately jump 40 per cent, simply because that percentage of the California product has been destroyed. This fact is of more than ordinary interest to Pittsburghers, for the reason that the country is divided into three states that consume the most native wines—California, Louisiana and Pennsylvania. Contrary to general belief, New York wants foreign labels, and Pennsylvania is far ahead in the home-grown grape product.

"My advices from San Francisco declare that 25,000,000 gallons have been lost—less than half the visible supply—nearly all of which was used in fighting the flames. In the warehouse districts of Main, Fremont, First and Second streets the firemen threw their hose into the tuns containing about 25,000 gallons each, and tried to check the flames with streams of wine. Practically 25,000,000 gallons were used in this futile effort.

"Of the little wine remaining in the state none can be shipped because of lack of cooperage, and, therefore, all orders already filed, will be filled by wine companies from their New York stocks until May 1. No orders are being taken now at any price, though we fear the high price of American wines will cause the importation of low grade foreign wines, unless the Fasser pure wine bill that has passed the house, prevents it."

Telegraph Linemen for Frisco.

Three batches of telegraph linemen and experts in telephone construction left last night over Pennsylvania lines bound for San Francisco. The parties aggregated about 20 experts drawn by the Western Union, Postal Telegraph and railroads from Pittsburgh and vicinity. The party, according to instructions given to headquarters in western cities, will increase in numbers as it proceeds.

The telegraphic trunk lines within a radius of hundreds of miles of San Francisco have been demolished in part or greatly weakened; inter-city telephone lines have been wiped out and the overhead trolley system will have to be entirely reconstructed. Besides the regular groups sent on out officially, many linemen out of work and those with the wanderlust, are hastening out to San Francisco independently, being attracted by the good wages and steady work that will be assured them for some time to come.

MAJ. DAVIS SEES THE PRESIDENT

Aspirant in Pittsburgh Postmastership Visits Mr. Roosevelt and Postmaster General.

STRONG RECOMMENDATIONS

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM
L. W. STRAYER, Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Maj. W. H. Davis today called at the White House and laid before the President his claims to the appointment as postmaster at Pittsburgh. Maj. Davis was accompanied by Representative Dalzell in whose district the major resides. President Roosevelt gave him a very cordial greeting, and without indicating what would be his course when the matter reaches him, he told Maj. Davis that as Pittsburgh is a large and important city, it is necessary to have a good postmaster.

From the White House the visitors went to the postoffice department and called upon Postmaster General Cortelyou. Mr. Cortelyou was very courteous and listened with interest to the explanation of the situation by Mr. Dalzell. Maj. Davis will call at the department again tomorrow, and file his indorsements and recommendations. He has submitted these to the congressmen, and the papers form a strong argument in favor of Maj. Davis' appointment. Among the prominent firms and business men of Pittsburgh who have approved the candidacy of Maj. Davis are the following:

All the Pittsburgh newspapers, McConway-Torley Company, Oliver Synder Steel Company, H. J. Heinz Company, T. A. Gillespie Company, R. & W. Jenkinson Company, George K. Stevenson & Company, Gillespie Curll Company, Duquesne Fireproofing Company, Pittsburgh and Cincinnati Packet Company, Monongahela Natural Gas Company, W. G. McCandless & Sons, Ammon & Little, Consolidated Ice Company, Ft. Pitt Fire Insurance Company, City Insurance Company, Thomas R. Fleming, Farmers' Deposit National bank, William Witherow, Hotel Duquesne, F. C. Smith, Colonial hotel, A. L. Richardson, Hotel Lincoln, F. H. Tooker, Newells hotel, Ward Mackay Baking Company, Diamond Coal and Coke Company, William L. Jones, William S. Brown, M. G. Bryce, United States Glass Company, W. J. Friday Company, A. R. W. J. Austin, Robert Swan, Chambers McKibbin, Dayton Pipe Coupling Company, Crescent Forging Company, George A. Magoon, Henry Schuetz, John W. Grove Company, Pittsburgh Bakers and Confectioners' Supply Company, H. W. Kreusler, Lawyers Realty Company.

In addition there are letters and indorsements from many councilmen, a majority of the members of the central board of education, as well as large petitions from business men and citizens generally.

It is expected the three members of congress will get together within a few days and make a selection so that the nomination can be sent to the senate the first of next week. Major Davis, it is believed, will be the man agreed upon. He has never held a public office and this fact will be in his favor.

Either the Shark or the Porpoise will be used for the experiments. It will be fitted with a transmitting apparatus similar to that used for sending through the air.

STATE SCHOOL FUNDS DIVIDED

Under the Appropriation Allegheny County Receives More Than in Preceding Year.

WESTERN COUNTIES' SHARE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
HARRISBURG, April 25.

The state department of public instruction today completed the calculation for the distribution of the state appropriation to the public schools for the school year beginning the first Monday of June, 1906. The entire appropriation is $5,500,000. Of this $257,500 is diverted to paying the tuition of students in the state normal schools and $100,000 for the payment of districts maintaining township high schools.

This fund is due on the first Monday of June, and it is expected that State Treasurer-elect Berry will pay the districts as fast as they file their annual reports with the department of public instruction.

New returns of the number of teachers and children were made in 1906, and are used in the calculations for the distribution of the appropriation for the coming year. This changes the amount due the different districts throughout the state. Some districts will receive more and others less than for the school year 1905.

Unless the increase in the number of children and teachers in a district was in proportion to the increase throughout the state, the district will receive less money than in 1905. Allegheny county, which received $608,901 03 in 1905, gets $621,529 21 in 1906.

Western Counties Share.

Following are the amounts to which the western counties are entitled for 1906: Allegheny, $621,529.21; Armstrong, $58,185.45; Beaver, $52,175.39; Bedford, $40,121.57; Blair, $75,118.70; Butler, $53,080.01; Cambria, $36,718.19; Clarion, $33,724.37; Clearfield, $77,567.59; Crawford, $63,633.69; Erie, $59,050.27; Fayette, $93,771.33; Greene, $23,354.75; Indiana, $46,059.24; Jefferson, $52,183.67; Lawrence, $46,788.54; McKean, $44,515; Mercer, $62,556.88; Somerset, $59,943.27; Venango, $47,020.99; Warren, $37,653.93; Washington, $95,579.33; Westmoreland, $135,995.67.

CAPITALISTS FAVOR BILL.

Measure to Make Port Arthur, Texas, a Port of Entry Is Being Considered by Congress.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Pittsburgh capitalists are interested in a bill now pending before congress which makes Port Arthur, Texas, a port of entry. A hearing on the bill was held by the ways and means committee today at which the Texas parties interested appeared in favor of the bill. Several Pittsburgh men are expected here later in the week to argue for it. The greatest argument against the bill is the fact that the channel leading up to Port Arthur is a private canal. However, the railroad company has agreed to sell this canal to the government at a price to be agreed upon by a board of appraisers composed of engineer officers of the United States army.

Pittsburgh Man Is Sentenced.

NEW CASTLE, PA., April 25.—(Special.)—Judge Porter today sentenced Joseph Fender to one year and three months' imprisonment in the Allegheny county workhouse. Fender is a resident of Pittsburgh, and was employed as clerk in the jewelry store of C. B. Cubbison. During a recent absence of the proprietor, he stole a number of articles valued at $300.

TO ELECT COUNCILMEN IN FORTY-FIRST WARD

They Will Be Chosen on Same Day Vote Is Taken on Question of Annexation.

City Solicitor Rodgers stated that a special election would be held in the Forty-first ward to elect a select councilman and a common councilman on the same day that the special election is held in the two cities to vote on the consolidation of Pittsburgh and Allegheny. The object of holding the councilmanic election in the Forty-first ward on the same day is to save the expense of an extra election.

The court will fix the date for the election on annexation and the mayor will issue a proclamation naming the same date for the councilmanic election in the Forty-first ward. The Forty-first ward was formerly Sterrett township.

THE PIANOLA-PIANO

combines a piano such as the Weber and the Pianola-Piano Player in one instrument, thus enabling ANYONE, whether familiar with music or not, to produce instrumental music with the same effect as though an accomplished musician were playing.

The Pianola-Piano takes up no more space than an ordinary piano, as there is no instrument to move to and from the piano—the player is inside the piano—and at any time that you may so desire, the piano may be played with the hands.

The Pianola-Piano Player produces the tone, the technique and the artistic effect the same as any accomplished player aims to do.

Richer Malt, Better Beer.

The Exclusive Pabst Method Gives Pabst Beer Its Superiority.

Malt is the life of beer. The richer the malt the more nutritious, the more wholesome the beer. Pabst learned years ago that the forced method of making malt in three or four days could not possibly be accomplished without losing in large degree the life-giving, strength-giving elements of the barley. Most breweries use this old process. It is quicker, easier and less expensive.

The Pabst eight-day method of making malt gives the full richness of the grain to the beer. It doubles the expense of brewing, but it makes Pabst Beer the best beer, not only in taste and flavor, but in tonic, health and strength-building properties. Pabst Blue Ribbon is to-day the superior of all beers.

Clean things to eat and drink are imperative as pure food. Food may be pure yet unclean. It is the method of handling the manufacture of a food product that makes it clean. The great Pabst brewery is the cleanest brewery. Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been expended to manufacture Pabst Beer in a manner so cleanly that no contamination is possible. The Pabst exclusive process is perfect. No physician more carefully sterilizes his instruments than does Pabst sterilize his utensils, from brew kettles to storage tanks. From the time Pabst famous beer is brewed from choicest hops and eight-day malt till it is poured into the glass, it is never touched by human hands. Never passes through any but sterilized pipes, never stored in other than sterilized tanks, never in contact with other than sterilized air. Thus the Pabst brewery is the cleanest brewery and Pabst Beer is the cleanest, most wholesome beer.

FRANKO SMASHES FACE OF GUARD STOPPING WIFE

Director of Conried's Opera, Returning from 'Frisco, Promptly Resents Effort to Delay Welcome.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 25.—Nahan Franko, coming home from San Francisco, sick and limping, in misfit clothing and another man's hat, was still spunky enough to clout the face of a gateman who tried to forcibly detain his wife at the Grand Central station today when the Twentieth Century limited came in with more of the survivors of the earthquake.

Mrs. Franko was standing at one of the gates, crying, with her eyes glued to the walkway alongside one of the tracks. She had no permit to go inside the trainshed. Presently she spied the figure of her husband. With a cry of joy Mrs. Franko ran past the gates toward him. She couldn't wait another moment, as she subsequently explained. Two big guards ran after her and tried to stop her.

About that time the director of Herr Conried's Metropolitan orchestra saw his wife and the two men laying hands on her. He dropped his valise and leaped forward. He smashed one of the guards, Henry Wolf, on the eye and the nose with considerable emphasis. The other guard played peace-maker, and held Wolf at bay, while the Frankos embraced, wept and kissed each other.

ALLEGHENY CONTROLLERS PREPARE FOR GREATER CITY

That Alleghenians consider the consolidation with Pittsburgh practically a certainty was evidenced last night when the committee on grades and text books of the Allegheny board of school controllers, recommended the adoption of several books now in use in the Pittsburgh schools. The contention was that in case of consolidation, the uniformity would be of advantage to both districts.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE FOR MAY

A Woman's Explorations in Unknown Labrador

Labrador is one of the few portions of the world which has remained practically unexplored. Leonidas Hubbard lost his life in trying to make his way through this desolate country. Recently MRS. HUBBARD, the widow of the explorer, accompanied only by a few guides, succeeded in accomplishing what strong men had failed to accomplish. In 61 days she made the journey of over 600 miles on foot and by canoes through the wilderness from one end of Labrador to the other, and for the first time correctly mapped the country which no white man had traversed since 1838. This is the complete account of her explorations, written by herself.

How Men Feel in Battle

A remarkable narrative of the actual sensations of a soldier under fire. It is written by S. H. M. BYERS, a veteran of the Civil War, who enlisted as a private and was repeatedly distinguished for gallantry in action. His story, which is largely autobiographical, is unique. General BYERS is a trained writer as well as a soldier, and his detailed picture of his own experiences is a vivid and brilliant piece of descriptive writing.

Mr. Janvier in Mexico

After an absence of almost twenty years, THOMAS A. JANVIER recently revisited Mexico for HARPER'S MAGAZINE. This is the first of a number of delightful articles which he has written. A picturesque account of old haunts revisited, old memories revived, written with all the charm for which the author is distinguished.

The Tragedies of Animal Life

Mr. HAROLD S. DEMING is a naturalist who gets all his knowledge at first hand from the animals and birds themselves. He writes only what he himself has seen, and he is a keen observer and a charming writer. His article in the May Magazine describes most vividly intensely interesting incidents in the life of two hummingbirds, and later a dramatic tragedy of the forest in which a hawk and some of the forest folk came in conflict.

Unpublished Writings of Lewis Carroll

A delightful hitherto unpublished paper by the late Lewis Carroll, author of "Alice's Adventures in Wonderland," full of the same charming humor and pleasant philosophy which have made him one of the most beloved of the world's writers.

Personal Adventures on a Whaler

Mr. CLIFFORD W. ASHLEY, the artist, who made a trip on a whaler recently for HARPER'S MAGAZINE, writes dramatically of the stirring scenes of the actual capture of whales off the African coast—of the long chases, the narrow escapes, and of the interesting if less exciting work of "trying out" the oil.

8 Complete Short Stories

There are eight notable short stories in HARPER'S MAGAZINE for May, stories of adventure, of love, of child life, of humor, of the city and of the country. Among the authors are: JUSTUS MILES FORMAN, ALICE BROWN, JOHNSON MORTON, NELSON LLOYD, J. B. CONNOLLY, ANNIE HAMILTON DONNELL, ETC., ETC., ETC.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—A special session of the California legislature to pass laws empowering San Francisco to issue bonds for the reconstruction of the city was requested of Gov. At the meeting were Mayor Schmitz, Gens Funston and Greely, Secretary of Commerce and Labor Metcalf, Garrett McEnerny and representatives of every subcommittee.

The entire assembly drew up a message to Gov. Pardee, in which they stated their request for a special session of the legislature and the reasons of such request, and accompanied it with another message asking for a prompt reply. The question of martial law was also considered.

IGNORES CALL OF THE COMMITTEE

Director Ridgway Refuses to Attend Meeting When He Is Twice Summoned.

DR. WALTERS PREVENTS DELAY

Director Ridgway refused to appear before the public safety committee of councils yesterday when his presence was demanded to explain the necessity for additional employes in the department which he had asked for.

The first bill considered was an ordinance for two additional janitors in the bureau of police. The ordinance was approved.

Then the ordinance for an assistant fire chief at $1,800 a year for the East End district was taken up, and E. F. Toote said he wanted the director present to explain the necessity for another fire chief. John J. Hughes demanded to know why the director wanted 15 more men for sanitary inspectors, although the ordinance for the inspectors was then not being considered. The clerk was instructed to telephone for Director Ridgway and request his presence. While waiting for the director it was decided to take up the ordinance for the sanitary inspectors.

Walters Spoke Against Delay.

A. V. Simon moved to refer the ordinance to a committee of three. President E. R. Walters of select council, objected to Simon's motion, and made a strong speech in favor of the ordinance, claiming the additional inspectors were needed to deal with the typhoid epidemic and the present unhealthy condition of the city. E. J. Edwards said the committee should postpone action on the ordinance until the director arrived.

"I will withdraw my motion if that fellow comes here," said Simon.

The clerk had called President Walters to the telephone to talk to Director Ridgeway, and the director told Dr. Walters he would be there in half an hour, and that he was exceedingly busy. Fifteen minutes passed and L. H. Frederick said: "I don't see why we should wait 15 minutes more on that fellow."

"The committee has no business waiting here," said Dr. W. H. Weber. "My time is just as valuable as Director Ridgway's."

Chairman Manion remarked that Director Ridgway had been sent a card notifying him of the meeting. Dr. Walters made another speech in favor of the ordinance. The committee sent the clerk to call up the director again. The director this time said he had an engagement with the mayor, and was preparing for it and could not come to the committee meeting. He said he would send a representative.

Manion Objects to Being Coached.

While waiting for Director Ridway's representative to appear the committee took up the ordinance authorizing the employment of an additional painter for the public safety department. The ordinance was approved, but Chairman Manion was not quick enough in putting the motion to suit Edwards, who prompted Manion by saying, "All in favor——."

"There are too many coaches here for me," said Chairman Manion.

The sanitary inspectors ordinance was taken up again, and Frederick said he could not see the necessity of so many inspectors. Dr. Walters made a third speech, stating that the delay in providing them might be fatal to life. At this juncture Supt. G. W. Moore of the health bureau, appeared and made an explanation. He said the present force was inadequate, that the inspector of the First district had the first 10 wards of the city to cover except the Sixth ward. He said the time of the present force is taken up with the removal of the sick, and they have no opportunity for sanitary inspection. It was proposed to make a house to house inspection with the new men. Simon withdrew his motion to refer the ordinance to a subcommittee, and it was ordered sent to councils with an affirmative recommendation.

All measures before the committee were approved and on motion of Dr. Walters the committee voted to notify the director his presence was desired at all committee meetings in the future. Ten minutes after the committee adjourned Director Ridgway appeared at the city hall to attend a meeting of the firemen's disability board.

MEMORIAL CANNOT BE BUILT IN THE PARK

Chairman Weber Says He Has Opinion from Rodgers—Can Use the Market Site.

Dr. W. H. Weber, chairman of the special committee of councils on soldiers' memorial, stated yesterday City Solicitor Rodgers had furnished the committee an opinion that the proposed memorial hall cannot legally be erected in Schenley park. Chairman Weber stated that the solicitor's opinion, however, was favorable to the erection of the memorial on the Diamond market property. He said the committee would hold another meeting next Tuesday to consider the matter and to frame a report to councils.

The majority of the members of the committee have expressed themselves in favor of the county building a joint memorial and market on the Diamond market site, the building to also include a large convention hall to be placed at the disposal of the city. Assistant Controller Morrow is actively opposing this project, and claims councils will make a serious mistake if it gives up the market property to the county for a memorial, instead of building on it a new city hall. He says it would pay the city to buy a different site for the county and keep the market house for itself. Valuations are placed upon the market property ranging from $1,500,000 to over $2,000,000.

LIFE HOLDS NO CHARMS.

Three Persons Try Suicide, Two of Whom Leap from Bridges.

Sadie Miller, 1517 Howard street, Allegheny, jumped into the Allegheny river from the Seventh street bridge yesterday. She was taken from the water by L. L. Williams and removed to Central police station where she said she repented her act and asked to be sent home.

William Maloney, who was intoxicated, jumped off the Ninth street bridge, but the cold water changed his suicide idea and he swam ashore. William Howard, who, it is said, agreed to plunge into the river with Maloney, was prevented by Rudolph Renter.

W. R. Stuchel, a carpenter of 4647 Chatsworth avenue, Hazelwood, on Tuesday night placed a rubber hose to a gas jet and was inhaling the gas when his father broke into the room and pulled the hose out of his mouth. Magistrate Negley sent him to jail for five days.

Missions Are Becoming Numerous.

That there has been an increase of missions in all parts of the United States, and especially in the west, was reported to the board of home missions of the United Presbyterian church at its meeting yesterday. Three hundred missions applied for aid during the coming fiscal year, which begins May 1.

To Get More Strength from Your Food

You know, it's not how much we Eat, but how we Digest that makes us Strong, or Brainy, or Successful.

When the Bowels are filled with undigested food we may be a great deal worse off than if we were half starved for want of Food.

Because, food that stays too long in the Bowels decays there, just as if it stayed too long in the open air.

* * *

Well, when food decays in the Bowels, through delayed and overdue action, what happens?

The millions of little Suction Pumps that line the Bowels and Intestines then draw Poison from the decayed Food, instead of the Nourishment they were intended to draw.

This Poison gets into the blood and, in time, spreads all over the body, unless the Cause of Constipation is promptly removed.

That Cause of Constipation is Weak, or Lazy, Bowel Muscles.

* * *

When your Bowel-Muscles grow flabby they need Exercise to strengthen them—not "Physic" to pamper them.

There's only one kind of Artificial Exercise for the Bowel-Muscles.

Its name is "CASCARETS," and its price is Ten Cents a box.

Cascarets act like Exercise on the Muscles of the Bowels, and make them stronger every time they force these Muscles to act naturally.

The stronger these Muscles propel the food, the stronger does the friction of the food act on the flow of Digestive Juices.

The more of these Juices that act on food, the more Nutriment does that food turn into, and the richer nourishment do the little Suction Pumps of the Intestines draw out of it.

It needs only one Cascaret at a time to stimulate all the Bowel-Muscles enough, without purging, discomfort or loss of nutrition.

So, if you want the same natural action that a six-mile walk in the country would give you, (without the weariness) take one Cascaret at a time, with intervals between, till you reach the exact condition you desire.

* * *

One Cascaret at a time will properly cleanse a foul Breath, or Coated Tongue, thus proving clearly its ready, steady, sure, but mild and effective action.

A coming Headache can be warded off, in short order, by a single Cascaret, and the cause removed.

Heartburn, Gas-belching, Acid-risings in the throat, and Colicky feeling are sure signs of Bowel trouble from food poisons, and should be dealt with promptly.

One Cascaret will stop the coming trouble, move on the Bowel load, and free the Digestive Juices, if that one Cascaret is taken as soon as the first signs are noticed.

* * *

Don't fail to carry the Vest Pocket Cascaret Box with you constantly.

All Druggists sell them—over ten million boxes a year, for six years past.

Be very careful to get the genuine, made only by the Sterling Remedy Company and never sold in bulk. Every tablet stamped "CCC."

FREE TO OUR FRIENDS!
We want to send to our friends a beautiful French-designed, GOLD-PLATED BONBON BOX, hard-enameled in colors. It is a beauty for the dressing table. Ten cents in stamps is asked as a measure of good faith and to cover cost of Cascarets, with which this dainty trinket is loaded. 717

THE MARATHON MYSTERY

By BURTON E. STEVENSON,

Author of "The Holladay Case," "Cadets of Gascony" Etc.

Copyright, 1904, by Henry Holt & Co.

As we entered the foyer, I heard that murmur of surprise and admiration which I knew my companion must inevitably call forth. As for her, she was interested in everything, the lights, the color, the movement of the crowd, the bustle of the great theater combined to form an excitant which brought the deep blood surging to her cheeks. She looked around with half-open lips, smiling, pleased as a child, seemingly quite unconscious of the many curious eyes centered upon her.

"Oh, it is glorious!" she cried. "I have to thank you again, che."

"You have nothing like this at St. Fierre?" I questioned, laughing at her eagerness.

"I'm enjoying it, too," I said; and, indeed, I was, for her happiness was contagious. She seemed charged with electricity, overflowing, communicating it by a look, a word, a smile.

We went up to the promenade after the first act, and ate an ice together. The place was crowded, and Cecily soon became again the center of attraction. Men strolled past merely to look at her, and from more than one woman I caught a flash of the eye that said unutterable things. The advent of a new, incomparable siren could not pass unchallenged. At them all, Cecily glanced from time to time with admirable nonchalance; one would have sworn she had been reared in New York. She chatted gaily, eating her ice, sipping her wine, looking at me with eyes that glowed like stars. Then suddenly, as she looked up, her face changed, I glanced up, too, and caught Jim Godfrey's astonished eyes fixed on mine. He bowed and passed on.

"Who is that gentleman?" demanded Cecily eagerly, leaning across the table toward me. "You know him?"

"Oh, quite well," I answered, more and more surprised. "His name is Godfrey."

"God-frey," she repeated slowly after me, as though fixing it indelibly in her memory. "And what is his business?"

"He's a reporter by trade; he gathers news for a paper," I added, seeing that she did not wholly understand.

"Oh," she said, and breathed a deep sigh of relief. "I see." Then, as she met my glance, she added, "I fancied that I had met him somewhere; I was mistaken. In New York I have met no one except you, missie."

But I scarcely heard her; my eyes had dropped to a pin at her throat: as she leaned forward, I could see it very clearly—an opal surrounded by a blazing ring of diamonds. I looked at it mechanically—then with a sudden, intent interest. For one link of that brilliant ring was missing; one of the diamonds had fallen out.

CHAPTER IV.

The Problem of the Diamond.

I was scarcely surprised when Godfrey's card was brought in to me at the office next morning. Both Mr. Graham and Mr. Royce happened to be out at the time, so that I had the inner room to myself, and I directed that Godfrey be shown in at once.

"I was expecting you," I said, rising to shake hands with him. "That stare of yours last night warned me that you'd be around to demand an explanation."

"Demand is hardly the word," he corrected, as he sat down. "Beseech would be nearer it. I confess I was never more surprised in my life than when I saw you sitting there calmly chatting away with Mrs. Tremaine."

"Then you have met her? She thought she was mistaken."

"You mean she knew me?" he asked quickly.

"She asked who you were—she fancied she'd met you somewhere."

Godfrey laughed a little dry laugh.

"She has," he said, "but it's strange she remembers it, for I'll swear she never looked at me—or perhaps," he added, knitting his brows, "she has some special reason to remember. I happened to be in the hall of the Marathon apartment house, talking with Higgins, the janitor, when she and her husband came in from dinner the night that Thompson was killed there—perhaps you remember about it?"

I nodded, smiling.

"Yes, I remember."

Something in my face caught his attention.

"You mean you know something about it?" he asked quickly. But a movement of feet across the floor outside interrupted him. "We can't talk here," he said. "Will you be at home tonight?"

"Yes."

"Then I'll look you up," and he turned to go.

"Wait a minute," I said. "I'm not with Mrs. Fitch any more."

"Aren't you?"

"No—I'm quartered at the Marathon."

"At the Marathon?"

"Yes—suite fourteen—Higgins will show you up." He stared at me an instant with starting eyes. Then the door opened and Mr. Royce came in, followed by two clerks.

"I'll look for you this evening," I added, hugely enjoying his stupefaction.

He nodded mechanically, and turned away, walking like a man in a dream.

"Well," began Godfrey, as he settled back in his chair and looked around the room, "this is about the last place on earth I'd have expected to find you."

"And yet it's not so wonderful," I pointed out. "I had to change my lodgings and found that these would suit."

"It's in your blood," he went on, smiling. "It has been ever since that affair of Miss Holladay. You'll never get it out. But I'm glad you're here. I've an idea that we're just on the threshold of a very remarkable mystery, and you can help a lot."

"Then the murder wasn't the end?"

"No; I fancy it was only the beginning. Now tell me how you happened to be with Mrs. Tremaine last night."

"Tremaine had an important business engagement," I said, "which he couldn't break. He'd promised to take her to the theater and had secured seats. Rather than disappoint her, he asked me to take his place."

"And she didn't object?"

"She made the best of it, I guess."

"She seemed to be getting a good deal of fun out of it."

"She was. She's the most unconventional creature I ever met. She'd interest you, Godfrey."

"I don't doubt it in the least. But Tremaine interests me, too. You don't happen to know what this business engagement was?" and he looked at me with a queer smile.

"No; I suppose that it had something to do with his railroad."

"His railroads?"

I related briefly the project in which Tremaine was engaged.

"Well, perhaps it was connected with that," Godfrey said, when I had finished, "but indirectly—very indirectly. He spent the evening in Dickie Delroy's box at the opera."

It was my turn to stare.

"Are you sure?"

"Quite sure—I saw him there. Tremaine, I understand, was taken up by Delroy some time ago and has been cutting quite a swath in society—it's easy enough to understand why. That's not the first time he's been in the Delroy box."

"But," I asked, more and more astonished, "how did he accomplish it?"

"I don't know. A polished fellow like that has an open sesame, sometimes. More than likely, he's interested Delroy in his railroad scheme, and Delroy has become fascinated with him, just as you've evidently been."

"Yes," I admitted, candidly, "I have."

"I saw at a glance that he's a smooth one. I believe that railroad business is just a blind—he doesn't look the man to waste his time building castles in the air."

"Oh, if you could hear him!" I protested.

"I wish I could."

"I can introduce you—as a reporter looking for a story, say."

"No, it won't do. I'll try to get at him some other way."

"I don't believe it's a blind," I persisted. "His heart's too deeply in it. Besides, I don't see that we have any reason to suspect him of anything. If it's a blind, what's his real game?"

"I give it up. That's just what we've got to find out."

"Godfrey," I said suddenly, "there's two points I'd like to submit to you—both rather important ones, I fancy. But first I want you to tell me the story of the crime, just as it occurred. I suspect there were some details that didn't get into the Record. Start a cigar first."

He took a cigar and struck a match.

"There were," he assented with a smile, "a number of details that didn't get before the public. Most of them have an unfortunate tendency to implicate Miss Croydon."

"Miss Croydon?"

"Yes; I don't mean implicate her in the actual crime—I don't for an instant believe she had any hand in that; but they seem to indicate that she wasn't frank with us—that she's concealing something—protecting somebody. Now there wasn't any use in telling the fool public that; they'd jump at once to the conclusion—why," he broke off abruptly, with some heat, "even as it was——"

"Yes," I said, somewhat surprised at his irritation, "I noticed the shots at her."

"Some of them were outrageous! It's a shame that such a woman as that—but you shall judge," and he told me the story substantially as I have set it down in the first chapters of this history. "There isn't the least doubt," he added, "that she took the clippings from Thompson's pocketbook, and I think it very improbable that she has told us the whole truth concerning the minor details of the crime, but nevertheless she's innocent."

He got up and walked across the room and placed his finger over a little hole in the woodwork of the bedroom door.

"There's where the bullet from her revolver struck," he said. "There's no doubt about that—it was taken out and found to fit. I'd give a good deal to know who it was she fired at and why she fired. I tell you, Lester, the more one thinks about that affair, the more incomprehensible it becomes, there are so many questions which seem unanswerable. Who was Thompson? How did he get in condition to receive her? Was the murderer a friend of Thompson's? If not, how did he get into the rooms? Above all, why, after he had knocked Thompson down, should he stand over him and shoot him through the heart? That savors more of a wild beast than of a human being."

He paused a moment in a sort of helpless perplexity, then sat down abruptly and turned to me.

"What were your points?" he asked.

"The first," I said, looking at him, "will I fear, help to tip the scale against Miss Croydon. She came here the morning after the inquest and tried to rent this apartment."

He stared at me, astounded, his cigar in the air, while I repeated the story Higgins had told me. When I had finished, he sat gazing into vacancy, his lips compressed.

"I see it puzzles you," I said, at last, enjoying his perplexity. "I confess I couldn't make anything out of it."

"Puzzles me!" he repeated, getting up again and walking nervously about the room. "Why, it's the most astounding thing I ever heard—it's the most unexplainable feature of this whole unexplainable case. I should think she'd never want to enter these rooms again. But perhaps Higgins was mistaken," he added, stopping short.

"That might be," I admitted, "though he swears he wasn't."

REGISTRATION BUREAU IS NOT ADVISABLE

Gen. Greely Advises Those Seeking Information to Telegraph San Francisco Newspapers.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Gen. Greely this afternoon responded in the negative to the suggestion that a governmental registration bureau be established. He added a statement of conditions in San Francisco today, and in a manner forecasted the future, telegraphing in part as follows:

To relieve public apprehension, it should be clearly understood that beyond isolated cases already reported there are no deaths or serious injuries of guests of any well-known hotel in San Francisco.

Three hundred thousand people are homeless and the entire business facilities of a city of half a million have been destroyed, except those on one street of minor importance; accommodations for the most urgent financial and other indespensable business institutions are being obtained only with the greatest difficulty. The entire body of those men are naturally devoting their energies to restoring their own affairs and even those who have applied themselves devotedly to relief and rescue work the past week are gradually withdrawing therefrom, stating correctly that domestic and business affairs demand their entire attention.

I suggest that interested parties desiring information about individuals telegraph the Examiner, Call or Chronicle, now best informed as to location of prominent individuals. People should remember that San Francisco covers 25 square miles and is now practically without street car, telephone or telegraph facilities. Messengers on foot or in automobiles are the only means of communication between different parts of the city.

UNITED PRESBYTERIANS LOSE HEAVILY IN DISASTER

Dr. Alexander Gilchrist of the United Presbyterian committee on relief for the San Francisco sufferers, received a letter from the Rev. W. E. Dugan, pastor of the Second church in that city yesterday, stating that the First church had been wiped out by fire, the Second church badly damaged, the homes of nearly all the members of both congregations destroyed, and the people were in need of assistance. The committee will present the matter to the congregations of the presbytery next Sunday and will ask for contributions. Fifteen hundred dollars has already been subscribed.

"From Pan to Wagner."

"From Pan to Wagner," an illustrated concert lecture will be delivered by Silas G. Pratt of New York in the Schenley hotel banquet hall on Saturday evening. Selections will be rendered by Miss Emma Porter Makinson, soprano, and Mrs. Florence Spencer Pratt, assistant organist. The proceeds will be donated to the San Francisco sufferers.

SCHOLAR'S HABITS

Coffee Most Pernicious.

A manly young fellow, working his way through school, and whom the world will hear of some day, came near blighting all his prospects by coffee-drinking.

"I drank coffee all my life," he says, "and looking back I can see that it was responsible for much of the nervousness from which I suffered as a child. Four years ago while at a preparatory school I began to use it more freely than ever before.

"I imagined it strengthened me, but as the school year went on I felt that I was 'playing out.' First, I was troubled about studying in the evening, then I got so I could not sleep well and rose in the morning unrefreshed. My nerves grew shaky, hands trembled, eyes palned me, and sometimes at the blackboard everything would seem to turn black—I couldn't see what I was doing and would have to take my seat. Then my brain seemed to grow sluggish—I could not think clearly and consecutively.

"Thus things went on for a year—sometimes a little better, then worse again. I laid it to various causes, but didn't hit on the right one till I went to a physician. He said that my nervous system and digestion were in bad shape, owing to improper diet, and the use of coffee. I said I couldn't get along without coffee, but he insisted that I should give it up and use Postum Food Coffee instead.

"I at once changed my diet, and for a time lived principally on Postum, Grape-Nuts and fresh fruit. The improvement began quickly to manifest itself. My sleep came back, my brain grew clear and active, my nerves were steadied and my digestion is better than ever before. The color has come back to my cheeks and I gained nearly 30 pounds weight in three months. My mind is active and I enjoy studying. I owe it all to Postum Food Coffee and Grape-Nuts." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. There's a reason.

JURY ASKS MERCY FOR C. J. GRIFFITH

Defendant in False Pretense Case Says He Paid $10,000 for Secretary's Influence.

TWO INDICTED FOR MURDER

C. J. Griffith was found guilty of a charge of false pretense in criminal court yesterday, but recommended to the mercy of the court. Griffith was charged by George W. Hughes of the Sharpsburg Sand Company with having appropriated the proceeds of a $10,000 promissory note which he had obtained for the purchase of property for the sand company. Griffith claimed he had given the money to E. C. Vaughn, private secretary to Col. J. M. Schoonmaker, vice president and general manager of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, for his influence in having a siding constructed to connect the Pittsburgh, Chartiers & Youghiogheny railroad with the Wabash system.

Boaist Derrett was given one year to the workhouse for unlawful wounding; Isabella Arnold, nine months for larceny and John Welsh 60 days to jail for stealing shoes.

The grand jury returned two indictments for murder, one against Andrew J. Abel, who is charged with stabbing his wife to death on January 8 last. Abel, it is alleged, set fire to his house in Brownsville avenue and burned it to the ground to cover up his crime. The woman's body was found in the cellar burned to a crisp, and it was at first thought that she had fallen down the stairs with a lamp in her hand. The other true bill was against Stephen Rowley, who is charged with having shot Paul Hlatki, an Italian, at Munhall on February 1 last.

Other true bills were: Carrying concealed weapons, William Earch; larceny from the person, James Daly, James Daly; perjury, Albert L. McPeak; selling liquor on Sunday, Bridget Cuthene; false pretenses, W. Edward Cope; fraudulently making a written instrument, Joseph G. Knorr; felonious assault and battery, George Briscoe, Joe Commitie; assault and battery, Press Underwood; assault and battery, John Pushko; selling liquor without license, Bridget Cuthene, Edward Martin; entering a building, Albert Rominski (2), Joseph G. Knorr, Harry Ellsworth, Mike Kovah; receiving stolen goods, Harry Lane, Ida Washington, William Nunn, Annie Beasley; larceny, W. T. Maher, Samuel G. Brown, J. C. Strain, U. S. Gray, Ed Mallon, Alexander Schultz, D. W. Kiefer, William Kamp, Harry Arnheim, Joseph G. Knorr.

Harry Bernard Owens, a tailor of 6223 Lancaster avenue, Philadelphia, entered suit against James Laughlin III. to recover $1,000 damages for injuries received by being struck by an automobile driven by the defendant in Philadelphia.

Virginia Woodford entered suit to recover $5,000 damages from William S. Allen. The plaintiff claims that while she was lying convalescent from typhoid fever at her home on November 11, 1905, Allen broke into her room in an angry mood, and alleging she had informed the Humane society that one of his drivers had treated a horse cruelly cursed her and made threats against her.

Suit was entered by Dr. D. S. Ashcom of Allegheny for $10,000 damages against Mrs. L. Boyer and L. C. Taylor, proprietors of a restaurant on Federal street, Allegheny. He says he accompanied a party to the restaurant last Sunday night for dinner. After waiting a long time and not being served, he attempted to leave the place, but claims the door was locked and a policeman sent for to arrest him on a charge of refusing to pay for what he ordered. He says he was greatly humiliated.

Mrs. Mary Nieler entered a suit against Mrs. Mary Hearald for $10,000 damages, alleging the latter slandered her in accusing her of stealing chickens.

George Kirlik sued George Maczibeba for $5,000 damages in having him arrested on a charge of false pretense, of which he says he was not guilty.

Headaches Classified.

Every headache is not occasioned by indigestion. There are 50 different kinds, each due to a different cause. The more frequent are:

A dull headache across the forehead, due to dyspepsia.

A pain in the back of the head, due to the liver.

Of Local Import.

There is a young lady named Bess
Who's not a bit neat, I confess.
Pencils, papers and books
Hang on walls, floors and hooks,
And she loses the parts of her dress.

Now Bess is a newspaper girl,
Whose work's worth the price of a pearl
She works awful hard
And writes stuff by the yard,
With her mind in a regular whirl.

She has several pets(?) on the 'phone,
Whose voice she hears with a moan.
"If it's that Mrs. C——
She can go to the D——!"
And she clutches her hair with a groan.

How Women Serve the Pope.

In one respect only are women permitted to serve the pope. This is in the care of his wardrobe. As he always appears in white even a few hours' wear takes away the freshness from his robes. Men attendants are not considered suitable for the work and it is entirely in the hands of women.

GAMES TODAY.

St. Louis at Exposition park, Cincinnati at Chicago, Philadelphia at New York, Brooklyn at Boston.

CHICAGO, April 25.—The Cubs handed the game back to the Pirates in the eleventh inning today at the West Side ball park, soon after the Pittsburghs had handed it to them. The result was another defeat for Chance and his men, the score being 4 to 3. According to the pitching Jack Pfiester and Vic Willis were putting up, the teams should be playing yet with an even score. This time it was little Johnny Evers' error that permitted Wagner to dash over the pan with the run that meant so much. Johnny's stick and his batting eye saved the first game from the Pirates, but on this occasion he evened matters up by making an error in the fitful eleventh, an error that was all the more glaring because he made another right on top of it. But the second one did not make any difference. All the harm had been done.

They started the ninth a tie at 3 all. Then they started the tenth the same way. Then the eleventh, and almost before you could bat an eye the game was settled. Clarke started off with a tall foul to Pat Moran. Wagner looked mighty dangerous, but a great sigh of relief was gasped out as he sent a tiny grounder toward Pfiester.

But it was only for a gasp. Jack knocked it down, made another snatch for it, missed it and then threw wild to Chance. The ball rolled to the bleachers and Hans scampered to second. Chance recovered the ball and tossed it to second. Tinker was over conferring with Steinfeldt at second and the ball rolled to left field, and Hans rolled on to third.

That was the situation when Nealon struck out and permitted the infield to move back instead of playing for the man on third. Leach rolled one down to Evers. The Troy marvel knocked it down, fell on it, proceeded to thump it and then booted it. He gave it a good licking, anyway, but while the battle between Evers and the ball was waging Wagner landed home with the winning run. Ritchey rolled another one down to Johnny and another limited round-trip took place. Soon after Moran's quick throw caught Leach trying to steal third.

The Cubs were as minor leaguers in their half of the eleventh. Three as a starter was the Cubs' portion of the second inning. Chance was hit and Steinfeldt rapped out a double across left field. Tinker, on a fly to left, counting Chance, and Steinfeldt came over quickly on Evers' force of Tinker at second. Moran gave Tommy Leach a chance and Tommy heaved the ball 10 feet over Nealon's head. Evers scored on it with ease.

An error by Tinker gave Clymer a start in the fourth. Ganley's attempted sacrifice bunted to be a safe hit, and then Pfiester made a wild pitch that scored Clymer. Clarke died in the infield and Ganley was caught trying to get home on Wagner's infield punch. But Nealon hit to right and Hans registered.

Clarke's men tied it in the seventh. Nealon started off with a two-bagger to center. Leach sacrificed, and Ritchey laced out a double to right. Attendance, 3,000. Score:

MITINGER AND FISHER TO JOIN CUMBERLAND

Manager Irvine of the Cumberland team is making every effort to land the pennant in the Pennsylvania, Ohio and Maryland league this year. He has signed Harry Fisher, the well-known infielder, and has accepted the terms of Howard Mitinger of Wilkinsburg, who is now pitching on the State College nine. Fisher played with Tacoma in the Pacific Coast league two years ago and last season he was with Altoona.

Frank Venning, the former catcher, has been secured by Don McKim to play first base on the Braddock P. O. M. team.

Punxsutawney has released Thirdbaseman White. Too many infielders was the cause.

Budget Seamon, the Washington manager, and Jimmy Ganzear, the Waynesburg mid-fielder, were in this city last night. Ganzear says Waynesburg will win the P. O. M. pennant with Steubenville second and Washington third.

Tom. Wilson of Philadelphia, who played in the east last year, joined the Braddock team yesterday. He is a six-footer and plays first base.

ROSEBEN WINS THE STAKES

Defeats Rams Horn in the Principal Event at the Aqueduct Track.

CAMILLE WINS AT LEXINGTON

NEW YORK, April 25.—David Johnson's Roseben and Capt. W. D. Williams' western champion Rams Horn, met in the Sterling stakes at Aqueduct today, and Roseben, the popular favorite, played by the sensational betting public, but not by the wise men of the turf, turned the easiest sort of a winner. With a great flash of speed, the big sprinter went away at the fall of the flag on his mile journey and before the half-mile post was reached he had Rams Horn and the latter's stable companion, Phil Finch, and Eugenia Burch, an added starter, all straightened out to their limit. Four or more lengths separated the horses in the order named. Time after time the game Rams Horn tried to catch the flying leader and in vain, and flogged out to the last ounce, he passed under the wire two lengths behind the favorite. In addition to the first meeting of the year between crack horses of the east and west, today's race was to serve as a tryout for Roseben for the Metropolitan handicap to be run at Belmont park, May 10, over the mile course. The easy way in which Roseben galloped the distance, hard held by Jockey Lyne, in 1:40 1-5, won him admirers for the big stake.

James R. Keene announced today that his champion 4-year-old colt, Sysonsby, will not start in any of his early engagements. The horse is suffering from a skin disease. Summaries:

CLIPS SECOND OFF THE MILE RECORD

Walter Christie's Blue Flyer Flies Away from a Standing Start on Hard Road.

SUMMARY OF OTHER RACES

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 25.—(Special.)—Walter Christie, driving his Blue Flyer over the hard sand beach course at Veninor, clipped a second and a quarter off the mile record from a standing start this afternoon, covering the distance between the tapes in 53 seconds flat and beating his closest competitor, the 80-horsepower Napier, guided by W. H. Hilliard, something over a second. A 60-horsepower Thomas car, with Montague Roberts at the wheel, was the other competitor, but was never a dangerous factor in the race.

Bright sunlight and a westerly wind that drove the ocean far out and left the beach smooth, took a record crowd to the course, and thousands were on hand to cheer Christie when the announcement was made that he had beaten the world time for a standing start mile. The city has been filled with automobiles all day and every means of transportation was pressed into service to get the crowd to the course.

The first day of the spring tourney of the Atlantic City club was a success, although the experts met several disappointments. The beach was slightly soft in two places, making the breaking of records difficult.

Then the big 80-horsepower Darracq, entered by S. B. Stevens of New York, and a winner in the Vanderbilt race, was out of the running because of a broken low gear that cannot be replaced before tomorrow.

Mrs. John Newton Cuneo, whose fine driving of her steam car has made her a favorite among the spectators, had trouble with her car that kept her out of the races after the first event, when an accident to the timing wire made taking of her time against the record impossible.

In the fifth race Stewart H. Elliott and his Pope-Toledo were ruled out for the day for failing to keep place in the start, and in the last race a failure to agree with the judgment of the officials resulted in the disqualification of William M. Swain and his Apperson car. The track arrangements made this year by Alfred Reeves of New York were excellent and the big crowd as well as the racers were handled without accident or mishap. The beach is hardening tonight and should the weather continue good the two last days of the racing will be highly successful for both drivers and spectators.

New York owners and drivers were in the winning in every event today, most of the trophies going to entries from that city. The summaries:

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a princess gown of white marquisette trimmed in lace and carried white lilacs. Her veil of tulle was caught with orange blossoms. Miss Elizabeth Marshall, who served as her sister's maid of honor, was gowned in white Japanese embroidered mull, and carried Killarney roses. Handsome Home Ceremony.

Mr. Barnsdall gave his daughter in marriage, while her sister, Miss Aline Barnsdall, was the maid of honor and only attendant. Morrell Law of Denver served as his brother's best man. The bridal gown was an exquisite creation of white lace trimmed in orange blossoms, which flowers also fastened the bridal veil to the head. A bouquet of bride's roses was carried. Pink silk radium trimmed with irish pointe lace, was worn by the maid of honor, who carried bridesmaid roses. The floral decorations throughout the home were exceptionally handsome. After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Law left in their private car for a northwestern trip. Their intention is to be at home in Thirteenth avenue, Denver, after May 20. Among the wedding guests from away were the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Law of Denver, George Law, a brother, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Smith of Chicago, Mrs. T. N. Barnsdall, a cousin of the bride and Miss Barnsdall, both of Bradford; J. B. Snakard, Titusville, and Miss Louise Helmbold of Curwensville.

Plant Tree in Honor of Mrs. Wightman.

The New Era club yesterday afternoon planted a tree in the grounds about the home of Mrs. J. Smiley Wightman in Forbes street and Murray avenue, Squirrel Hill. The exercises were conducted within the house and the tree named for Mrs. Wightman, who accepted the honor and promised to watch over it. Miss Helen Grimes, the chairman of forestry, was master of ceremonies and gave a bright address followed by Mrs. James R. Kibler, the president of the club, who christened the tree. Mrs. George K. Brown, a popular candidate for the presidency of the club, read an original poem, and Mrs. Wightman, the hostess for the day, gracefully accepted the honor conferred upon her in the naming of the tree. The music consisted of a couple of songs by Miss Helen Grimes. The afternoon was a specially enjoyable one, and 150 women, including members of the club and their friends, filled Mrs. Wightman's home. The decorations were in red and white, carnations being arranged in each apartment. Refreshments were served under the direction of the social committee, assisted by a number of young girls.

Representatives were present from all the large cities where playground work has been taken up, and the Pittsburgh association was honored by the election of its two delegates, Miss Kennard, its chairman, and Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, the treasurer, to the executive board of the new body. Miss Kennard also spoke of the indorsement of the new movement given by President Roosevelt when delegates visited him during the progress of the convention.

At the meeting yesterday morning there were exhibited examples of the work which the children did last summer in the vacation schools in drawing, consisting largely of original illustrations of stories told them by their teachers.

New Version of An Old Adage

Do You Eat For Mere Stimulation Or For Real Nutrition?

In matters of money, there is an old adage that says, "It's not so much what you earn as what you save," and just so, in the question of food and health, it might be said as truly, "It's not so much what you eat as what real nourishment you get out of what you eat."

This is the secret of health, strength and vitality. No difference how much nutrition your food contains, if your system does not assimilate that nutriment—take it up and distribute it throughout your body—you gain nothing beyond a temporary stimulation by having eaten it.

Malta-Vita, best whole white wheat, mixed with pure barley malt extract, thoroughly steamed and cooked and every flake baked to a crisp, is rich in nutrition and is assimilated readily even by the weakest stomach. Every one of its health-giving, strength-building elements is taken up by the system to nourish and sustain life.

And Malta-Vita is so good to eat. A perfect breakfast is impossible without it, and it's just as good three times a day. Try a bowlful with cream. You never tasted anything so good.

Malta-Vita is always ready to eat. No cooking, no inconvenience. All grocers. Now 10 cents.

When chicken and Macaroni are ready, butter a two-quart baking dish and line with pieces of Macaroni; then put in a layer of chicken seasoned to suit taste; then add a layer of Macaroni and so on until the material is used, making the last layer Macaroni. AVON PLACE.

THE SUBURB.

Avon place is situated in the borough of Ben Avon, 6½ miles from Union station on the Fort Wayne branch, P. R. R. Has 48 trains a day; trolleys every few minutes.
Avon place has many delightful features, among which is a clear, dry atmosphere, pure, sparkling water, all street improvements, including paving, beautiful lawns and fine old shade trees.

THE HOUSE.

These homes are the best that brains can build today; great care has been taken to have nothing but the best materials used; all resources have been exhausted to furnish these homes with all the modern improvements. The newest and most rare of these are: The finished basements, with four separate rooms, including a servants' bathroom; the heater has the thermostatt attached, thereby saving you the annoyance of attending to it; the finished attics include billiard rooms. Other features of these elegant houses are private bell and telephone system, beautiful reception halls, commodious pantries, double floors and stripped walls. "SEE OUR KIND," all different. Sample house open at all times.

WHAT WE DO.

If you are not suited with any of these houses or the location we would be pleased to have you select a lot on one of our lovely paved avenues; submit to our architect your ideas. He will work them out and draw you plans without cost. We will build to suit your ideas, on terms most reasonable.

STOCKS CLOSED LOWER ON SMALLER BUSINESS

During the Greater Portion of the Session the Market Displayed a Better Tone—Local Stocks Dull and Rather Heavy.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The New York stock market yesterday displayed a better tone during the greater part of the session. Liquidation was less urgent and bearish pressure was relaxed. As a consequence there was a considerable falling off in business. This condition of affairs continued until early afternoon, when unfounded reports of another serious earthquake in San Francisco caused some selling. Late in the session a heavy drive was made against Consolidated Gas, which broke from 139 to 131¾, the latter a new low point for more than a year. This seemed to have an unsettling effect upon the whole market, which declined and closed at the lowest prices of the day.

There was a continuation of the transfer of money to San Francisco, both through the sub-treasury, which amounted to about $1,000,000, and by direct shipments of currency. At the same time additional bonds were deposited with the sub-treasury against imports of gold, so that the net change in the money holdings of the banks was not important. Call loan rates were easy at 3½ to 4½ per cent, but time loans continued firm, and the fact that New York exchange at Chicago remained at a discount of 46 cents indicated that the flow of currency to that city was likely to continue. Nevertheless, a better feeling prevailed as to the money market, and this was reflected in the stock market.

Union Pacific, Amalgamated Copper and United States Steel led the advance in the early dealings, and as these stocks have more influence on the general list than any others, the shorts appeared to take the cue and covered some of their contracts. The subsequent reaction, however, wiped out all the gains with the exception of Copper, which closed ⅛ higher than on Tuesday. The copper market in London was reported active and excited at a sharp advance, and it was also said that the largest independent producer had sold his production up to September at an advance in price. American Smelting and National Lead closed ¼ lower and United States Steel common ⅝ lower. Colorado Fuel and Iron closed 2¾ lower.

The publication of the list of investment holdings of the majority of the large domestic fire insurance companies naturally attracted attention to the course of the market for some of the more prominent stocks held. Pennsylvania, St. Paul, Northwestern, New York Central and Union Pacific all figure largely in these holdings, and with the exception of Northwestern all closed lower yesterday. Great Northern preferred lost 3 per cent, Northern Pacific 1¼, St. Paul 1⅝ and Union Pacific 1 per cent.

The break in Consolidated Gas, which closed at a net loss of 5¼ per cent, was based upon a report that the directors at their meeting today would reduce the dividend to a 4 per cent basis, this action to follow the recent reduction in the price of gas forced upon the company by legislative enactment. The decline in Distillers was based upon a report that the free alcohol bill would be held up in senate committee and not permitted to become a law at this session of congress.

The sharp rally which occurred in Reading during the early part of the session was due to a rumor that an agreement would be reached this week which would avert a strike of anthracite miners.

The local market was extremely dull and rather heavy in tone for the regular industrial list, while the mining department was active, firm and higher. Nearly 10,000 shares Cable Consolidated changed hands at 69c to 72c, closing at 70c. Tonopah Extension jumped to 12¾ and closed at 11¾, a net gain of 75c a share. Ohio Tonopah and United Copper were dull and lower. Crucible Steel common was unchanged at 14, while the preferred declined to and closed offered at 79½. Manufacturers Light and Heat sold unchanged at 30½. Pittsburgh Oil and Gas sold at 32, the lowest ever quoted and a net loss of $6 a share from the last previous sale, but it subsequently recovered to 33½ bid. National Fire Proofing preferred declined to 26 and Pittsburgh Coal preferred to 56½. The publication of the annual report of the Philadelphia Company had no effect upon that stock, only one share changing hands. All of the Westinghouse issues were neglected and closed nominally unchanged.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

A somewhat vague impression prevails in Fourth avenue that some sort of deal is contemplated affecting Pittsburgh Oil and Gas, and that the recent issue of bonds for the purpose of taking care of the floating debt was a preliminary to the opening of serious negotiations. It was stated yesterday that the suspension of the dividend was a condition precedent to the flotation of the $1,200,000 bonds at par. It was rumored that a considerable amount of Pittsburgh Oil and Gas carried for inside interests in various brokers' offices was lifted this week by the owners, and that more than a controlling interest in the stock is now in hands which could turn it over to new purchasers if such were in the market for the property. It was stated yesterday by a gentleman in a position to know the facts that the Pittsburgh Oil and Gas Company had sold its interests in Indian Territory to the Standard Oil Company for $450,000, and that this sum did not figure in the total income of the company for the year, as presented in the statement submitted to the annual meeting this week, for the reason that title to the property must be made through the department of the interior, which necessitated delay in reaching a final settlement. While it is not known that any deal is actually contemplated, the value of the Pittsburgh Oil and Gas property to the Standard Oil Company was discussed in the street, and the latter will not be surprised if negotiations were opened with the object of changing control. For the past fiscal year the receipts of the company from oil was nearly $800,000, and quite recently it has developed a new pool which is said to be producing 600 barrels a day. The Southern Oil Company, a subsidiary of the Pittsburgh Oil and Gas, owns producing property in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, Texas and Indian Territory. Another underlying company owns property in New York state, so that the Pittsburgh Oil and Gas Company may be said to own properties scattered over a wider area than any other oil and gas producing company in the country.

The Philadelphia Company reports for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1906:

At a meeting of the directors of the United Railways Company of San Francisco the following were elected as additional members of the board: George H. Earle, jr., president of the Finance Company of Pennsylvania; James H. Reed, president of the Philadelphia Company, Pittsburgh; James D. Callery, president of the Pittsburgh Railways Company; Alexander Brown of Alexander Brown & Sons, Baltimore, and Henry J. Bowdoin of Baltimore.

The Pittsburgh Trust Company has declared the usual quarterly dividend of 5 per cent, payable May 1.

The Braddock National bank will hold a reception in the new banking house on the evenings of May 1 and 2, from 7 to 10 o'clock. The bank will commence business in its new home on May 3.

The directors of the Pocahontas Collieries Company have declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on the preferred stock, payable May 1.

The Pressed Steel Car Company has declared its regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent, payable May 23. Books close May 2 and reopen May 23.

Between April 12 and April 23 United States deposits in national banks increased from $67,640,985 to $88,294,493, or $21,653,508.

Concerning the New York bond market the Wall Street Journal says: "Liquidation for the insurance companies was far more noticeable on Monday than at any time last week. Some of the savings bank issues are freely offered in big blocks to the bond houses, but there is a good deal of reluctance on the part of the dealers to pick up many bonds in what they consider the first day of real liquidation. Under the circumstances, managers of syndicates have nearly all withdrawn their bonds from the market for the time being at least. Bonds of the class represented by the Lake Shore 4 per cent debentures, recently syndicated, will not find a profitable market in New York, while the outstanding Lake Shore 4s are selling at their present quotations."

In the New York bond market yesterday the most active issues were $511,000 Pennsylvania Railroad 3½s of 1915 at 95⅝@95¾, $151,000 United Steel 5s at 99⅞ to 99½, $108,000 Consolidated Gas 6s at 140¾ to 157, and the Japanese issues which foot up $263,000.

There are 151 national banks in the United States, each of which, according to the call of the comptroller of the currency as of April 6, show gross deposits of $5,000,000 or over. The National Bank of Commerce, New York, for the first time in history, heads the list, reporting $171,441,758, and the National City bank is second with $167,228,650. There are 21 national banks in the city of New York in the $5,000,000 class, 12 in Philadelphia, 11 in Boston, nine in Chicago, eight in Pittsburgh, six in St. Louis, five in Kansas City, five in Cincinnati, five in Baltimore, four each in San Francisco, Cleveland and Minneapolis, three each in Denver, Minneapolis, Omaha, Detroit, Newark, St. Paul and Brooklyn; two each in Buffalo, Albany, Los Angeles, Milwaukee, Portland, Ore.; New Orleans, Rochester and Seattle, and one each in Washington, Scranton, Pueblo, Dallas, Birmingham, Jersey City, Duluth, St. Joseph, Atlanta and Louisville. An ordinance which will permit the Ohio Fuel Supply Company to enter Cincinnati has passed first reading in Cincinnati councils, and is said to be supported by prominent city officials. Yesterday was the last day for payments on the second $1,000,000 allotment of new stock of the Ohio Fuel Company.

The Norfolk & Western Railway Company has declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 2 per cent on its common stock, payable June 15 to holders of record May 29.

The dividend of 4¾ per cent, declared on United Railways Investment preferred stock will be paid in interest bearing scrip. This action is due to losses of the company in San Francisco.

The Shelby Iron Company has declared the usual semi-annual dividend of 5 per cent, payable May 15.

President L. A. Robinson has called a meeting of the stockholders of the Pennsylvania & Ohio railway for May 26, at Ashtabula, to take action on the proposition to increase the capital from $700,000 to $1,600,000 and to increase the bonded indebtedness for extensions and improvements.

Scully, Painter & Beech were large sellers on the local board, among the transactions being 500 shares United States Steel to McClure & Way, 500 shares Reading at 126¼ to Sproul & Co., and 700 shares Tonopah Extension at 11⅞ to Morris, Brown & Co.

The management of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, it is understood, has under consideration plans for the raising of additional fresh capital, which is needed for carrying out extensive improvement work. Nothing definite has yet been decided upon in regard to this matter, though according to the understanding in banking circles the company contemplates the raising of possibly $40,000,000. Money market conditions, however, will to some extent determine how soon application will be made for the funds. This is not regarded as an opportune time for the flotation of additional bonds, so it seems likely that the company will issue short time notes for the amount needed.

Standard Investment Funds.

The Colonial Trust Company, No. 317 Fourth avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa., has for sale a variety of bonds yielding the purchaser from 3½ to 6 per cent, which it recommends as desirable investments. Inquire Alexander C. Thompson, manager bond department.

You can always depend upon it. Pilene positively cures Piles. All druggists sell it.

IRON AND STEEL MARKET STEADY

San Francisco Disaster Has Created Further Demand for Structural Lines.

COKE PRICES HOLDING FIRM

Conditions in the iron and steel market show little material change, though the San Francisco disaster and subsequent announcement of the immediate beginning of building operations has lent strength to finished structural lines which continue to be in great demand. Plates are not in the best demand and bar prices are softening, though sheet bars continue to be scarce and are strong at the quotations.

There has been a slight decline in prices on northern foundry iron, but the southern furnaces are holding their prices firm at $14 60 for Birmingham. Bessemer pig iron remains comparatively scarce and $17 50 valley is being easily obtained.

Owing to complex conditions existing in the coal trade, coke has held firm, with Connellsville foundry held at $3 10 and furnace at $2 60 and $2 75 at the ovens. Some consumers look for lower prices on coke, with a settlement in the coal controversy and the presence of weather assuring quick delivery.

The Hardware Market.

The hardware market is exceedingly active, stocks moving out in good quantities into the hands of the retail trade in response to an active demand, both through traveling salesmen and by mail direct. Season goods are particularly very active. Good shipments are going out in poultry netting, refrigerators, screen goods, freezers and goods of like kind. Builders' hardware, tools, sporting goods, bicycles, bicycle and automobile sundries continue to go forward in good quantities.

The demand for nails and wire, naturally very large at this time of the year, is moving out more goods than the mills can make, there being considerable difficulty in getting sufficient quantities and the mills are rapidly going behind on their orders.

Business in paints, colors, varnishes, brushes and other goods used in painting are moving freely, the coming of good weather starting up this business. Window glass is moving in fair volume, the trade keeping stock in good shape for the early wants.

The Shelley Hardware Company furnished the following quotations: Columbia pocket knives, discount 25 per cent; Albion hatchets, discount 40 and 10 per cent; Bindley canal shovels, $6 25 a dozen; Great Western files, discount 70, 10 and 5 per cent; sheet iron, base, No. 28, $2 65 the 100 pounds; galvanized sheet iron, discount 70 and 10 per cent; sash weights, the ton, $24 00; window glass, first three brackets, 90 and 15 per cent; above, 90 and 30 per cent; Albion sewing machines, discount 35 per cent; blue and white enameled ware, 40 per cent; Albion lanterns, 40 per cent; hay forks, 60 per cent.

STRUCTURAL MATERIAL IS CHIEF TRADE TOPIC

Difficult to Tell What the Requirements Will Be for the Rebuilding of San Francisco.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CLEVELAND, O., April 25.—The Iron Trade Review tomorrow will say:

"The probable demand for structural material which will result from the San Francisco disaster has been the leading topic of discussion in the trade during the past week. While the none devotion of the people of the stricken city is counted upon to cause an early beginning and in rebuilding, it is extremely difficult to foretell what the requirements will be. Very few of the large skyscrapers require more than 3,000 to 4,000 tons of structural steel, and many buildings could be erected without involving a tonnage very large in comparison with the product of the country.

"It is recalled that the business following the Baltimore fire was distinctly disappointing, although the buying resulting from that disaster has not yet ended. The steel corporation has decided to give preference as far as possible to orders from San Francisco, and other companies will doubtless follow this policy.

"Manufacturers will oppose the admission of structural material for use in San Francisco free of duty. Accurate testimony concerning the effects of the fire and earthquake on buildings of steel construction is lacking, but all the information obtainable furnishes strong evidence of the superiority of these buildings, which apparently witstood the shocks without great damage and suffered less severely than other buildings from the fire."

NEW YORK, April 25.—The Iron Age will say tomorrow:

"The event of the week has been the announcement just made by the United States Steel Corporation, Lackawanna Steel Company and the Pennsylvania Steel Company that they have opened their books for orders for steel rails on the basis of $28 at mill.

"The pig iron markets are in a somewhat puzzling condition. Steel making irons are generally firm. In the central west a sale of 20,000 tons of Bessemer has been made for an eastern works. In the Chicago district the malleable foundries are in the market to cover their contracts with the implement makers, the tonnage in sight being 20,000 tons. Steel foundries are in the market for basic pig.

"Among the sales of steel rails are 63,000 tons for 1907 for the Southern Railway by the Tennessee Company, 14,000 tons additional for the Seaboard Air Line, and 15,000 tons for the Illinois and Toledo Traction line. The structural mills have booked 3,000 tons for Los Angeles. No orders for San Francisco have been placed."

PRODUCE SOME WEAKER AS RESULT OF SUPPLY

Large Shipments Are Daily Arriving from the South—Butter Is Firmer.

There were few changes on the market yesterday, those recorded showing a downward tendency. Tomatoes are getting more plentiful and will show a weaker tendency from now on. Strawberries are arriving in large supply and will be still cheaper. A few weeks ago the market comprised only Florida berries, but now berries from all the southern states have started to arrive. Cabbage, radishes, spinach and young onions are all weaker, and as the home-grown variety starts to arrive will drop still further.

Eggs and butter are still firm. Eggs are now quoted at 18 cents and there is no prospect of them going higher in the near future. The demand is good, but the local supply is about equal to the demand. No eggs are being shipped from the west, and the consumption seems to have fallen off since Easter time.

No change is noticeable in canned goods. Early spring vegetables seem to have no effect upon canned varieties, and the price remains firm on everything that is canned. About this time of the year future deliveries are already quoted and they are some lower than present prices because of the prospects for a good crop.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts bulletined yesterday were: Pennsylvania, 16 cars hay, 7 cars oats, 3 cars corn, 1 car straw. Baltimore & Ohio, 7 cars hay. Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 3 cars hay, 3 cars straw.

There is still a good demand for all kinds of feed. The supply has been some better for the last few days, but is just about equal to the demand, which condition has not existed for some time.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

The energy of the Copper Queen and Calumet and Arizona officials is directed toward increased production. With copper selling between 18 and 19 cents a pound, and with a 20-cent copper market a probability in the future, the inducement for increased energy in this direction is apparent. At the Copper Queen plant old furnaces are replaced as rapidly as possible with new furnaces of increased capacity, and the production for April will equal, if not exceed, the March record-breaking output of 8,698,000 pounds.

The Calumet and Arizona is also making progress upon a bigger scale. The uncovering of big ore bodies on the Junckeye claim and the favorable development work in the southern portion of the group, gives assurances of many years of production. The fifth furnace at the smelter will soon be ready for business.

A conservative estimate for the Calumet and Arizona production in 1906 would be 50,000,000 pounds. With the present equipment at the smelters, 4,000,000 pounds was produced in March. It is not generally known that the Calumet and Arizona smelters handled 4,000 more tons of ore through the furnaces in March than at any other period in its history. The smelter is now handling quantities of copper, in fact an increase, is received from this management. The Copper Queen should produce for 1906 not less than 100,000,000 pounds, and the Shattuck will also be a good producer before the close of the year, to say nothing of Junction and Calumet and Pittsburgh, which should be brought into the active list long before December.

George E. Coldins, manager of the California mine, near Central City, Idaho, has been appointed general manager of the Newhouse tunnel, succeeding J. J. May, who recently resigned to devote his entire time to his own mining interests. S. A. Knowles, who has been in charge since Mr. May's resignation, will act as superintendent of the Newhouse, which is to be extended at least 4,000 feet.

A telegram to A. E. Masten & Co. from J. B. Ross, general manager of the Ross Mining and Milling Company, states that the company had made its first shipment of matte. On Monday 27 tons were shipped to Salt Lake and yielded $270 net a ton. A second shipment of 23 tons was made Tuesday. This company is controlled by Pittsburgh people. Timothy Rose is president and F. E. Chamson vice president. The mine is located at Silverton, Col., in the San Juan triangle. It produces gold and silver. The authorized capital is $2,500,000, of which $1,500,000 is issued.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, April 25.—There was a further sharp gain in the London tin market, the spot advancing £1 2s 6d to £181 15c, and futures 15s to £179. The gains are supposed to be chiefly due to speculative operations, but were responded to by the local market, which closed firm at $39 70@39 85. Copper also was higher in London, the most noteworthy gain being on futures. Spot closed at £85 10s and futures at £84. Locally no change was reported but the market is firm in tone. Lake is quoted at $18 50@18 75; electrolytic, $18 25@18 50; casting, $18 00@18 25. Lead was unchanged at $5 50@5 60 in the local market, but advanced 2s 6d to £16 in London. Spelter was 2s higher at £26 12s 6d in the London market and remained unchanged at $6 05@6 15 locally. Iron was unchanged to a shade lower in the English market, with standard foundry closing at 50s 3d and Cleveland warrants to 50s 4½d. Locally iron was reported in good demand with prices steady to firm. No. 1 foundry northern is quoted at $18 75@19 00; No. 2 foundry northern, $18 25@18 50; No. 1 foundry southern, $18 50 and No. 2 foundry southern at $18.

LONDON, April 25.—Copper was stronger today, closing at £85 10s. Eight hundred and fifty tons were sold. Tin was active and closed almost at the highest price of the day, £181 15s. About 1,100 tons were sold.

BOSTON, April 25.—The market today had a very fair little rally, largely on short covering and efforts of the traders to bid prices up so as to get a better level to sell on. We advised yesterday for our customers to take advantage of just such a rally to sell stocks and we see no reason to change our opinion. There is no such public interest in the market and stocks are not attractive at the present level with the money situation as it is at present.

CLUB HOPES TO HOLD HIGH PLACE

Railway Committee Suggests Interchange Rules Important to Roads and Shippers.

SURGEONS HOLD A MEETING

Officers and members of the Railway club of Pittsburgh are going to make a hard effort to maintain the high place the club has held for two years. This is to be accomplished by rules suggested by the club being approved and adopted by the Master Car Builders' association. The subject this year will be "interchange Rules." Tomorrow night a standing committee, of which R. L. Klein of the Pennsylvania is chairman, will report on this subject. This committee has about 30 suggestions for alterations in the interchange rules. Some of these may be amended by the club, but most of the rules will be submitted to the arbitration committee of the Master Car Builders' association. If one-third of these recommendations are adopted by the association, as has been about the record for the past two seasons, the club will have served the association again as no other club has done. The Pittsburgh district possesses the best traffic and general railway organizations in the country in the Traffic club and the Railway club.

Secretary Conway says the meeting tomorrow evening at the Monongahela house for discussing these interchange rules will be of wide interest to railroad men and shippers. A large attendance is expected. About 20 names will be presented for membership.

Prosperity in the South.

General Manager Garrett of the Queen & Crescent, who was a guest at the Traffic club dinner last Friday and who has been in the east on a visit to Philadelphia & Reading officials, says of the south:

"All along our line there is prosperity. The cotton raisers have made lots of money, and even if there should be a failure of the cotton crop this year, they would survive it. From Cincinnati south business is on the jump. In Kentucky and Tennessee coal mines have been opened up within a short time, and there will be large shipments from there. All labor is nonunion, so these mines will not be menaced by labor troubles. Besides this, lumbering has begun in earnest. In Tennessee a large amount of hard wood has been cut, and big shipments will follow. As to New Orleans, that city had such a cleaning out last year that no further trouble is anticipated this summer. The city has recovered from its setback and is doing a greater business than ever. In fact, throughout the south everything is prosperous."

No Lake Settlement Yet Made.

Word was received by railroad men in Pittsburgh yesterday that dock and vessel interests and the unions at lake ports are as far apart as ever and it is not likely any settlement will develop this week. The contract with the longshoremen expires on May 1, and trouble is expected from these men, as well as other labor bodies identified with the union. Should the Lake Carriers' association not get these troubles adjusted, it is not improbable that lake navigation will be greatly crippled after May 1.

Railroaders on the Go.

Among local officers attending the American Railway association spring meeting at Chicago yesterday were General Manager Yohe of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, Vice President Worthington of the Wabash and Robert Pitcairn, General Manager Peck and Superintendent Long of the Pennsylvania system.

General Passenger Agent Comstock of the Bessemer & Lake Erie went to Erie yesterday to meet Nickel Plate officers and confer in regard to proposed service from Pittsburgh to Buffalo.

Several out-of-town traffic men were here yesterday attending a joint meeting of the Pittsburgh, Buffalo, Cleveland, Youngstown and Wheeling freight committees. Among these visitors were Commercial Agent A. G. Flood of the Erie at Youngstown and Division Freight Agent W. H. Smith and N. H. Anspach, chief of the tariff bureau of the Lake Shore of Cleveland. The session was held in the Pittsburgh freight committee quarters.

George L. Word, general southern agent of the Wabash, and Egbert Blair, traveling freight and passenger agent, both of Atlanta, Ga., were here inspecting the Wabash properties and conferring with local officers yesterday. Atlanta is one of the new fields for the Wabash traffic department.

T. B. Payne, commercial freight agent of the Texas & Pacific at Louisville, was here conferring with shippers and traffic men.

L. & N. Getting Atlanta Business.

General Agent Harlsouth of the Louisville & Nashville railroad and Contracting Agent Smith are now routing shipments direct into Atlanta over the company's own lines. This route was opened into Atlanta by the Louisville & Nashville on April 16 for freight traffic. A part of this line was the old Atlanta, Knoxville & Northern road.

Will Reopen San Francisco Offices.

Local railroads, particularly the Baltimore & Ohio and Pennsylvania systems, will reopen their traffic offices in San Francisco just as soon as suitable quarters can be found by their Pacific coast representatives. The offices of these two roads, as well as of the Wabash and almost all other lines in the country, were destroyed in the earthquake and fire that wrought ruin in Market street, San Francisco.

General Agent Lake of the Santa Fe was advised yesterday that the company's San Francisco terminals at Spear and Harrison streets and China basin were not disturbed by the catastrophe, and that the Santa Fe is in position to handle traffic at these terminals.

P. & L. E. Surgeons Meet.

The Surgeons' association of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie held its regular meeting at the terminal building yesterday. "Fractures" was the subject of the paper for presentation and discussion, Dr. J. McW. Macfarlane being its author. Reports were given on "first aid to the injured," which showed that great progress was being made in the surgeons' efforts to get the railroad employes to take up this work when necessity arises. Dr. F. D. Milligan, chief surgeon of the road and president of the association, presided. Arrangements were completed for the next regular meeting in the third week of July. This will be held at Aliquippa park and will serve as an afternoon and evening outing for members of the association and their wives.

Y. M. C. A. Will Aid Frisco.

General Secretary Callender of the Pennsylvania Railroad Y. M. C. A. is advertising an entertainment, "Natural and Industrial Niagara Falls," in which a large number of stereopticon views will be exhibited. A silver offering will be taken to apply to a fund for aiding the San Francisco Y. M. C. A. This entertainment will be at the Y. M. C. A. rooms at Twenty-eighth street, this evening.

Barlow's Elephants at Luna Park.

Barlow's troupe of elephants, which will come to Luna park this season at the conclusion of its long engagement at the New York Hippodrome, is said to be the cleverest aggregation of its kind in the world. One of the features of the performance is a cakewalk, performed by the largest of the five elephants and a young woman who assists Barlow in his training. Besides this, the elephants do all of the usual animal acts and conclude by giving an imitation of a German street band that is said to be extremely comical.

McCook and Richard Watson Gilder, arrived here from the east today, and after a brief stop left for Gambier, O., where Mr. Carnegie is to deliver an address and receive an honorary degree of doctor of laws at Kenyon college tomorrow.

NORTH HIGHLAND DOCTORS BUYING

Two Physicians Secure Valuable Realty Properties in the East End.

EXCHANGE DEAL OF $37,000

Dr. C. P. Selp of 316 North Highland avenue, is the buyer of 90x210 feet on the east side of North Highland avenue, near Jackson street, which George Brothers sold last week for $16,000 for L. Grant Anderson. The lot was purchased as the site for a $50,000 residence. Since making this purchase Dr. Selp has been offered $80,000 for his property, 81x209 feet on the east side of North Highland avenue between Station and Redman streets. Four years ago the best price named for the property was only $25,000 and 16 years ago Dr. Selp bought it for $10,000. At $80,000 the lot figures at a little less than $750 a front foot. A price of $1,000 a front foot has lately been fixed on the S. J. Wainwright holdings adjoining this property on the north, but the latter have the advantage of a depth of 450 feet.

Dr. H. W. Fulton, who sold his property at North Highland avenue and Rippey street last November to the Emory Methodist Episcopal church for $80,000, is the reputed buyer of the property at the southwest corner of Penn avenue and St. Clair street, the deal for which was published in this column last week. The price is about $165,000, which affords as interesting example of recent profits made in that section. The old Mellon lot, 48.5x126 feet, at the corner was sold in 1902 to Edward Kern and L. P. Ross for $29,100 and a little later they secured the Lorterman lot, 23x200 feet, adjoining, for $18,500 from S. H. Lloyd. They sold the two lots to L. T. Yoder in April, 1903, for $76,500 or $1,000 a front foot. A few weeks ago S. O. Wilson, a real estate investor in South Highland avenue, bought the Yoder holdings for $115,000 and later secured the M. New and F. Bese lots, 48.5x74 feet, facing in Mignonnette street, in the rear, for about $34,000. This gives the new owner 76x200 feet, making one of the best corners in that part of Penn avenue.

Builders Supply Company Invests.

The D. J. Kennedy Company has bought from H. G. Morgan, the grain merchant, 40x200 feet at Island avenue and the Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad in the Ninth ward of Allegheny for $16,000 as the site for a big warehouse for building materials. The property extends through to Cowan street and is near the proposed station on the C. & P. railroad. This site was tendered in part payment for three East End properties which were valued at $21,000. One of these is a vacant lot, 75x125 feet, at Hamilton and Dallas avenues. The other properties are a 10-room stone front brick house on 35x150 feet on the north side of Race street, near Collier street, Twenty-first ward, and an eight-room brick house on 35x160 feet in Clearview street, near Stanton avenue. These are rented for $100 a month.

C. A. Wolfgang of the W. E. Street Car Line Crawls Up the Ohio.

Slowly but surely the hated street car is crawling up the Ohio river toward the Sewickley preserves. The line which is operating through Economy and Ambridge is now within 1.5 miles of Broad street, the ties and materials being laid down to the Little Sewickley creek bridge, which marks the borough line of Edgeworth, beyond which street cars cannot go at present. It is said renewed efforts will be made soon to get legal authority to proceed with the line through the borough and up into Sewickley, but all efforts to this end have so far proved unavailing. Another project now interesting the property owners of Edgeworth is the proposed macadamizing of the Chestnut strteet road, which runs from Edgeworth to the Allegheny Country club. It makes a short route of only two miles and is much traveled in the summer. Along the road are the fine properties of William H. Singer, M. B. Cochran and the James B. Oliver estate.

If President Roosevelt should send you a letter introducing a friend, would you honor that letter? If Bill Jones had written the same letter introducing the same friend, would you honor it equally? Here then is a moral. The worth of a letter of introduction depends largely on the reputation and position of the introducer.

An advertisement may be considered a letter of introduction, and the publication is the introducer. THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL offers to manufacturers of honest, appropriate wares an introduction to its 6,000,000 readers. These readers will honor such an introduction, far and away beyond the appeal of the "Bill Jones" publications.

To acquiring the confidence of these 6,000,000 readers we have given much time, much money, much thought. Can you estimate the value to your business of our introduction to six million believers?

The river is still falling and unless a heavy general rain comes there will be no higher stage for some time. A few empties arrived yesterday, but no coal was shipped, and the wharf presented a desolate appearance.

The Queen City arrived yesterday and left last night for Cincinnati. The boat brought in 1,400 cases of eggs and quite a large number of passengers.

AT THE THEATERS.

A Shakespearean Feast Is Promised As the Chief Theatrical Item in Next Week's Menu.

Mr. Robert Mantell's engagement in the Nixon theater next week will be marked by the attendance of numerous theater parties at all the performances. The engagement of the distinguished player is for a single week, and, as has already been announced, the schedule of plays originally made out for Pittsburgh will be adhered to, as follows: "King Lear," Monday and Friday nights; "Macbeth," Tuesday night and Saturday afternoon; "Richelieu," Wednesday afternoon; "Hamlet," Wednesday night; "Othello," Thursday night; "Richard III.," Saturday night. Seats for all eight performances are ready.

The patrons of the Belasco theater will be given an opportunity of witnessing something unusual when Louis Mann and Clara Lipman come to this theater on Monday, April 30, for a week's engagement, including a Wednesday and Saturday matinee, in "Julie Bonbon," the four-act comedy which these stars presented for 14 weeks at Field's theater, New York city. The unusual part of the whole thing is that Miss Lipman, who is a co-star, is the author of this sparkling comedy.

The playgoers of this city are to have another chance to see "Checkers," next week at the Alvin. The play, which is by Henry M. Blossom, Jr., is the breezy dramatization of the breezy book of the same name, and it is breezily acted. The company is the same as seen here before, including Hans Robert, Katharine Mulkins, Dave Braham, Lydia Dickson, Wallace Worsley and all the old favorites.

A bill in which comedy predominates is booked for next week at the Grand. Among the particularly noteworthy acts are the following: Al Shean and Charles L. Warren in a travesty sketch, entitled "Quo Vadis Upside Down;" Barney Fagan and Henriette Byron, clever dancers and vocalists, in a burletta called "Idle Fancy;" Billy Van, the minstrelman; Brockman, Mack and Belmont, in a musical comedy, and the Eight Bedouin Arabs, in acrobatic feats.

The coming attraction at the Empire next week is Frazee and Browne's sensational comedy drama, "Hooligan in New York," with Will H. Wheeler as "Happy Hooligan." The play is filled with thrilling situations and plenty of good comedy.

That famous company, the Rentz-Santley burlesquers, famed for its pretty women and the brightness of its olio of vaudeville acts, comes to the Gayety next week, the special added feature being the wonderful Rocoboni horses, the most remarkable of all trained animals.

Miner's Bohemian burlesquers will hold the boards at the Academy next week. The musical extravaganza presented, "A Bohemian Beauty," is a Broadway production that has scored success after success wherever it has appeared. The company consists of a host of clever comedians, vaudevillians and burlesquers, augmented by a chorus of 26 young women.

PAY TRIBUTE TO THE FARMER.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—The ears of the American farmer must have burned today, because of the eulogies and tributes to his untiring energy, his devotion and his patriotism which were paid him by the members of the house during the consideration of the agricultural appropriation bill.

Next to the achievements of the American farmer, the American hen came in for unstinted praise and her usefulness, her champion being Mr. Dawson (Iowa), who contributed a thoughtful speech to the literature of the farm. Without reaching an agreement as to the limit of general debate on the agricultural bill it went over until tomorrow, the features of the bill not being touched upon.

THE LAXATIVE OF KNOWN QUALITY

There are two classes of remedies; those of known quality and which are permanently beneficial in effect, acting gently, in harmony with nature, when nature needs assistance; and another class, composed of preparations of unknown, uncertain and inferior character, acting temporarily, but injuriously, as a result of forcing the natural functions unnecessarily. One of the most exceptional of the remedies of known quality and excellence is the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., which represents the active principles of plants, known to act most beneficially, in a pleasant syrup, in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to contribute their rich, yet delicate, fruity flavor. It is the remedy of all remedies to sweeten and refresh and cleanse the system gently and naturally, and to assist one in overcoming constipation and the many ills resulting therefrom. Its active principles and quality are known to physicians generally, and the remedy has therefore met with their approval, as well as with the favor of many millions of well informed persons who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual experience that it is a most excellent laxative remedy. We do not claim that it will cure all manner of ills, but recommend it for what it really represents, a laxative remedy of known quality and excellence, containing nothing of an objectionable or injurious character.

There are two classes of purchasers; those who are informed as to the quality of what they buy and the reasons for the excellence of articles of exceptional merit, and who do not lack courage to go elsewhere when a dealer offers an imitation of any well known article; but, unfortunately, there are some people who do not know, and who allow themselves to be imposed upon. They cannot expect its beneficial effects if they do not get the genuine remedy.

To the credit of the druggists of the United States be it said that nearly all of them value their reputation for professional integrity and the good will of their customers too highly to offer imitations of the manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., and in order to buy the genuine article and to get its beneficial effects, one has only to note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package. PLAIN FACTS

Cleanliness is accepted as a rule of self-preservation in every reputable brewery.

AN experienced brewer would no more boast of the purity of his beer than a gentleman would brag of having washed his face.

For that reason brewers who do not dare to test the substantial merits of beer always harp on purity.

A really first-class beer must, however not alone be free from self-evident defects, but it must combine all the positive excellencies known to the science of brewing.

THE TRUE TEST IS ALL-ROUND QUALITY which cannot be had without SUPERIOR MATERIALS, PERFECT TREATMENT and AMPLE STORING CAPACITY.

Upon this issue of positive superiority we challenge all competitors.

Of materials we use only the most excellent, regardless of cost. Corn, the one important substitute, which, on account of its cheapness, has been extensively adopted, never enters our brewery.

Our facilities for brewing beer are unequaled.

Our storing capacity of 600,000 barrels doubles any other brewery in the United States, and enables us to store our beer from four to five months.

Facts speak louder than words.

Publicity is the demand of the day.

The consumer is entitled to the truth.
